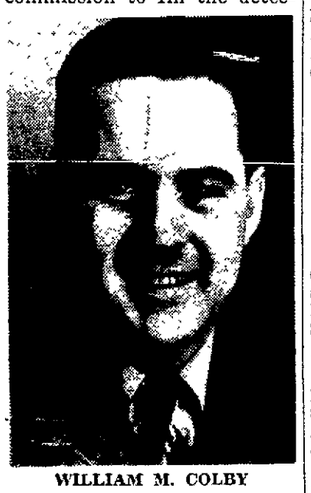
Colby Certified as Detective

Succeeds Lee Remy In Post

Only Officer On Eligible List

William M. Colby, 36-year-old Mansfield police department patrolman, was certified last night by the Civil Service commission to fill the detective's post left vacant by the resignation of Lee Remy.



WILLIAM M. COLBY

Colby's certification was announced today by Tom Woodard, head of the commission. Woodard said the patrolman was the "only eligible man" on the police force for the plain-clothes job. Two others from the department took the examination along with Colby.

Colby is expected to take over the duties soon after Remy's vacation ends Saturday. Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison said he would make the official appointment as soon as he received the certification which Woodard said is in the mail.

JOB HE WANTED

Colby described the detective position as "the job I wanted from the beginning." A veteran of service with the 45th Infantry division during World War II, Colby joined the police department on June 5, 1939, and attended the FBI academy in Washington, D. C., for three months in 1946.

Married two weeks ago to Carolyn Cox, stenographer in the traffic department, Colby and his bride reside at 158 West Second street.

Meanwhile there were new faces in strange places today in the police department, and Identification Officer Paul Martin hoped the change would bring him a vacation.

Martin, who has had only four days off since 1946, welcomed Robert R. Garver to the identification bureau from the traffic division. Garver's former place on the traffic squad was filled by Patrolman Robert L. Pittinger.

The change leaves a vacancy in the department.

Martin, who is entitled to 14 days a year of vacation, often puts in seven days a week at the identification bureau, an important unit in the department.

Mine Flood Traps Three

SHAMOKIN, Pa.—(INS)—State Mine Inspector Joseph Ruane reported this morning that rescue squads heard a concussion and "rapping" signals from a flooded anthracite shaft where three miners are trapped.

Ruane said searchers believe the trapped independent miners set off a stick of dynamite as a signal that they are alive and to indicate their location.

Rescue squads immediately began digging a blind heading from an abandoned adjoining pit toward the point where the signals originated, he said.

President Supports Marshall

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman said today that his hopes for eventual peace have not been increased by the recent exchange of notes with Russia.

The president told a news conference he is supporting to the limit Secretary of State Marshall's statement that what is needed is action, rather than general talks.

Marshall said yesterday that if Russia desires to promote peace she can act through the United Nations and other Allied agencies. The secretary of state ruled out any two-nation, Russo-American talks on matters of concern also to other nations.

President Truman said Marshall covered thoroughly the situation as left by the exchange of notes between Russia and the United States.

OFFERS TO TALK

In response to questions, the president repeated what he has said often before—he would be glad to meet with Soviet Premier Stalin in Washington.

Asked what the two would talk about at such a meeting, the president said he would let the newsmen know if such a meeting ever came about.

The whole reaction here to Russia's publication of the notes suggests that the chance for any real improvement in relations between Russia and the United States hinges on whether there will be a basic change in Soviet foreign policy.

This is strongly indicated in the statements of top officials here commenting on the disclosure of Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith's two talks with Russian Foreign Minister Molotov, and Molotov's formal reply.

Singleton Takes Stand

CLEVELAND —(INS)— John W. Singleton, former Mansfielder, was to take the stand again in federal bankruptcy court in Cleveland today in what may be his final court appearance.

A week from today, barring legal upsets, the convicted new-used car dealer will begin a 10-70 year sentence in the Ohio State penitentiary.

In court sessions yesterday, Singleton, who was found guilty of larceny by trick on seven counts, was cited for contempt of court three times for refusing to answer questions. He finally burst into tears.

Carl D. Friebolin, referee in bankruptcy, deferred the hearing for 24 hours.

Unless he agrees to talk today, according to courtroom officials, he may cause the forfeiture of his wife's home near Elyria and her rights for dower and may prejudice his own discharge from the burden of debts totaling almost one million dollars.

Plant Gates Kept Open

DETROIT—(INS)—Union attempts to bar white collar workers from closed plants in the second day of nation-wide Chrysler strike brought a police warning today that gates would be kept open by force if necessary.

Detroit Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy promised protection for all persons desiring to enter or leave the plants, declaring:

"We are determined to maintain order and preserve peace."

The company reported all traffic into one plant was halted by picketers.

A spokesman said only about 50 top executives were permitted to enter the East Jefferson (main) plant.

Meanwhile, industry sources estimated that the total number of workers to be affected by the Chrysler shutdown may reach 150,000, including employes laid off at supplier plants.

INDIAN GAME OFF

NEW YORK — The Cleveland Indians game with the New York Yankees in Yankee stadium was called off because of rain today. The two teams were also rained out in the fourth inning last night with the Yanks leading, 3 to 1.

Asks Home Project

Board Seeks Wiring, Plumbing Program

Members of the Richland County Welfare board will ask county commissioners for improvements at the Children's home. The decision was made last night at the monthly meeting of the board.

Mrs. G. C. Young, secretary of the board, id today that members plan to draft a letter to the county commissioners seeking improvements at the home, including plumbing and wiring.

Mrs. Young said the semi-annual inspection of the home by the members was made and everything was found "in perfect order."

Approached by W. L. Mapes of the local barbers' union, board members were told they must hire a licensed barber to cut the children's hair at the home, Mrs. Young added. She said the board agreed to consider the request only after advising Mapes that "every dollar is taken for the operation of the home."

Approved for April operations at the home and care of foster home and boarded-out children was $5,053, of which $1,121 was authorized for a range, mangle, plumbing check, wiring and exterminating service.

At present 145 children are under the care of the welfare board in Richland county. Of these, 64 are in the home. Others include 28 in their family homes, 24 in foster homes, 13 with relatives, and 16 in boarding homes.

Food Prices Climb Again

CHICAGO —(INS)— Retail food prices were reported on the upswing again today across the United States.

Mrs. R. M. Kiefer, secretary-manager of the National Association of Retail Grocers, declared that a weekly survey showed a nation-wide increase during the week of May 4 through 11.

Mrs. Kiefer said butter and meat led the upswing, the former advancing two to five cents a pound while meat showed a general increase of three cents.

50 Families Ready to Adopt Him

Unwanted 'Wendell' Most Wanted Baby

Unwanted "Baby Wendell," dark-haired, blue-eyed and 28 days old, today took rank as Mansfield's most wanted baby.

"Wendell's" mother left him, with an empty baby bottle and a package of clean, neatly-pressed clothes, in an automobile at General hospital Monday afternoon.

"Since I am no longer able to care for my baby, please have him adopted or put in a children's home," she wrote in a note. His name, she said, was "Wendell Stevens" and he was born April 15.

Today, at least 50 Mansfield couples wanted Wendell. Scores of persons have gone to General hospital asking to see Wendell. They have annoyed hospital officials so much one nurse commented: "We ought to charge admission."

Mansfielders wanted Wendell so much that many of them already have filed with Mrs. Marjorie Comer, assistant juvenile officer, tentative applications to adopt him.

MOTHER'S CLAIM FIRST

Ralph Carroll, juvenile officer, reported a number of calls, four of them to his home in Shelby. Mrs. Lavina Snodgres reported eight calls to the juvenile court office. Mrs. Laura Reece, matron of the Children's home, said she received a dozen calls.

However, the mother of the abandoned still has an opportunity to get her baby back. Mrs. Comer pointed out that the mother of the baby may have become "emotionally unstrung, but may now want her baby back.

"The mother, if she appears will have her day in court and get her

Train Blast Kills Three

CHILLICOTHE —(UP)— Railroad officials today sought to determine the cause of an explosion that ripped a Columbus-bound Chesapeake & Ohio freight engine, fatally injuring three crew members.

The engineer, W. R. Terry, 60, of Ironton, O., died of severe burns in a hospital here early today.

T. R. Lauter, 52, of Ironton, the fireman, and W. C. Bush, 37, of Siloam, Ky., died several hours after a steam pipe burst in the locomotive boiler late yesterday, spraying the engine cab with boiling water.

Railroad officials said the engin was pulling 160 cars at the time of the explosion, which ripped off the front end of the locomotive and scattered parts for a half mile. Main line traffic was disrupted for about an hour.

Evicted Family Moves Into Hotel

DAYTON —(AP)— A $50-a-week laborer, his wife and four children set up housekeeping today in a $12-a-day hotel suite after they were evicted from their home.

Charles Bremer, 32, announced he would bill the city for half the hotel cost. Bremer said the decision to move into the Gibbons hotel followed a futile five-month quest for lodgings.

GOP Eyes Farm Vote

Moves to Beat Truman to Draw

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Senators studied a new long range farm plan today as they waited for President Truman to make the next move in the contest for the rural vote.

The GOP-dominated Senate agriculture committee approved a revised price support program yesterday in advance of Mr. Truman's planned farm message to congress.

Democratic leaders indicated earlier this week they would seek to win the farm ballot by plugging the theme that the Republican congress would take no action this year on a permanent farm program.

But the committee not only beat Mr. Truman to the punch but sponsors said the bill closely follows recommendations laid down by the agriculture department. Senator Aiken (R-Vt), principal author of the new measure, predicted congressional approval without major changes.

The bill provides a sliding scale of price supports for agricultural commodities which now are being maintained at 90 per cent of parity.

When the crops provide a normal supply the price supports would be pegged at 75 per cent of parity. When the supply of any farm commodity varied from 70 to 130 per cent of normal, the supports would range from 90 down to 60 per cent of parity.

The present law setting price supports at 90 per cent of parity for the six basic crops will expire Dec. 31

GOP Rivals Plan Debate

PORTLAND, Ore. —(INS)— Republican politics neared the boiling point in Oregon today as Gov Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E Stassen entered the final phase of their campaigns for the state's endorsement for president.

Dewey and Stassen are the only candidates whose names appear on the Oregon Republican primary ballot May 21.

The primary vote will bind the state's 12 delegates on the first ballot at the convention.

Observers forecast a close race, and a tie in delegates would be possible even without an exact tie in popular votes.

Campaign leaders for Dewey and Stassen will meet later in the day to make final arrangements for a debate between the two candidates.

They reached agreement on preliminary details yesterday in a meeting at the office of Don Van Boskirk, Multnomah county (Portland) Republican chairman. They consulted their candidates during the night on other details.

Buses Become Cabins

VERMILION—(AP)—Fifteen old buses formerly operated by the Cleveland Transit system are being used here as tourist cabins. Bert M. Adams, owner of the Colonial Villa, purchased the rickety vehicles for $100 apiece at an auction last fall.

Fire Loss $50,000

BELLEVUE —(AP)— Firemen estimated damage of $50,000 in yesterday's fire at the J. C. Penney Co. store. The store was unoccupied as a result of the noon closing time observed here on Wednesday. Firemen battled the fire for two hours before bringing it under control.

Anti-Noise Rule Skips Newlyweds

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The only way you can get away with an extra-loud horn toot in Columbus today is to get married.

Otherwise the city's new anti-noise ordinance will festoon you with cops.

The law, effective today, bans sound trucks and stationary loud speakers, and "laying on the horn."

Street Job Delayed By High Costs

Council Holds Up Maple Resurfacing

Proposed resurfacing of Maple street between Marion and Brinkerhoff avenues, scheduled for this summer, has been postponed indefinitely because of excessive costs, Fred Miller, city council street committee chairman, said today.

The Mansfield Asphalt Paving company, also bidder, offered to do the work for $11,165, exceeding the city's estimate by $1,240.

Miller said, however, that council would be asked to make supplementary appropriations to permit the letting of contracts to the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company to resurface East Second street from South Main to Hedges street; North Adams street from East Sixth street to Orange street and Orange street from North Adams street to Newman street.

A contract was awarded last week to resurface South Adams street between First street and Park avenue east at a cost of $4,520.

Sole bidder on all the resurfacing jobs, the Mansfield paving firm exceeded the East Second street estimate of $9,009 by $810 and the North Adams-Orange street estimate of $5,795 by $873.

Ruling Backs Child Injured Before Birth

LIMA—(AP)—A child has a right to sue after birth for pre-natal injuries, the Ohio third district court of appeals held yesterday.

The decision was handed down in a $50,000 damage suit filed for Mina Margaret Williams by her father against Marion Rapid Transit company, Marion, O.

The court said an infant has cause for action if injuries occurred beyond the embryo stage.

The appeals court reversed a ruling by the Marion Common Pleas court that Ohio law does not allow for recovery of damages for pre-natal injuries to an unborn child.

However, since this decision is in conflict with one by the seventh district appellate court, the third district court certified the case to the Ohio supreme court for review.

ERP Bans War Goods

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States will shut off economic aid to any European nation which supplies war machinery to Russia, ERP Director Paul Hoffman said today.

Hoffman also assured Congress today only those goods "which can wisely and safely be spared" will be shipped abroad under the foreign aid program.

"Continued United States prosperity is paramount to the achievement of European recovery," he said.

Hoffman appeared before the Senate appropriations committee to plead for the full $4,245,000,000 balance needed to round out the $5,300,000,000 Congress has authorized for the recovery program.

The remainder of the sum has been provided for through advances from the Reconstruction Finance corporation and Congress.

Machine Plants Trees Rapidly

COLUMBUS —(AP)— A machine capable of planting 18 to 20 trees a minute has been developed, Forester H. P. Garritt of the Muskingum Soil Conservation district has announced.

He said R. L. Erwin of Ohio State university's agricultural engineering staff engineered and built the machine, aided by the Harry A Lowther company, Joliet, Ill.

Palestine Nearing Zero Hour

Jews Proclaim New Israel

(Compiled From Wire Services)

JERUSALEM — Jewish forces called upon all trained men and women of fighting age today to mobilize for the "zero hour" in Palestine when a Jewish state is proclaimed.

The state will be proclaimed early tomorrow night, effective one minute after midnight, when the British mandate ends. The Jewish provisional government decided in Tel Aviv to proclaim the state early in the evening to avoid such action on the Jewish Sabbath.

The Jewish mobilization call, issued in Haifa, ordered all men and women between the ages of 18 and 35 who have had any previous military training to report immediately for duty. These include not only those who have had training in Jewish forces, but also those who had any type of previous military training.

Observers said this was a precaution against possible invasion by the neighboring Arab countries. Egypt has imposed a stage of seige to prepare for possible Holy Land action. Syria and Lebanon are clamping down martial law when the mandate ends Friday midnight.

NEW PLAN PROPOSED

At Lake Success, N. Y., the United States presented a new and final plan to the United Nations today which would place all Palestine under a U.N. high commissioner of limited powers.

The latest American formula was presented in a closed meeting of the political committee's subsidiary drafting group and is expected to draw heavy fire from the Soviet bloc.

Meanwhile in Jerusalem the United Nations mission to Palestine prepared today to establish an emergency regime for the Holy Land in the face of Jewish determination to proclaim their own State of Israel at midnight tomorrow.

Jewish armed forces estimated at perhaps 70,000 men and women braced themselves on strategic defense lines facing all frontiers to meet an expected Arab invasion when the British surrender responsibility.

Pablo Azcarate, chief of the U.N., mission, announced that a United Nations secretariat headed by himself will take over emergency powers in Palestine on Saturday.

The Jewish provisional government in Tel Aviv, headed by Zionist Leader David Ben Gurion, announced a final decision to declare existence of a sovereign Jewish state in the Holy Land at the moment the British lay down their mandate.

This decision was reached in a nine-hour debate behind closed doors by the 13-man Jewish cabinet. A committee of five men, headed by Moshe Shertok, scheduled to be foreign minister of the new state, was appointed to draft the historic declaration.

Azcarate, in Jerusalem, said the first task of the United Nations regime planned by his group would be to establish a truce for all of Palestine, but this possibility appeared waning rapidly.

The din of battle rose and fell on two main Palestine fronts west and south of Jerusalem. The main battle, and perhaps the decisive one for Palestine, raged furiously into its fourth day at Bab El Wad, 12 miles west of the Holy City.

The Jews must win this battle to supply their community of 100,000 in Jerusalem and support their fighting forces there in case of an Arab breakthrough on the borders.

Reporters Given Breezy Brushoff

Britishers Think Lana's Not So 'Topping'

LONDON —(AP)— Honeymooning Lana Turner rested in the deep quiet of the Savoy hotel today after a sort of a hectic encounter with the British press.

The British press was pretty much inclined to let her rest.

The glamorous blonde Hollywood film star arrived yesterday with her new husband, Millionaire Henry J. (Bob) Topping, and then administered what the British Press association called "probably the strangest and most humilitating press conference ever held in Britain."

Six reporters arrived on scheduled at 6 p. m. come back, they were told, in 45 minutes. At 6:45 they were requested to return in 15 minutes. At 7 the six were ushered to Miss Turner's suite. She breezed through the room, said "Hello Folks," and vanished down the hall.

Four of the reporters vanished in the other direction but two persistent fellows pursued the star and found her in Dancer Eleanor Powell's suite.

"I love the English country," Miss Turner said, according to press association's account. "The grass and trees are so wonderfully green, and the tulips particularly and the flowers are so terribly beautiful."

Just about then Topping intervened and asked if that wasn't about enough. The reporters said yes, that was enough.

This morning, three of London's newspapers ignored Miss Turner entirely; the Graphic printed her picture, but no story; the Telegraph devoted three paragraphs on an inside page to her arrival; the Mirror printed a jolly piece entitled I'm just a poor American girl."

The Mirror quoted her as saying:

"I'm just a poor American girl." and I've just bought a few things to come over here with."

To which the Mirror reporter added his observation:

"As we talked, stewards were carrying Miss Turner's 18 cases, containing her few things."

Court's Order Against Picketing Angers Meat Strikers

Union Says It Will 'Try To Comply'

Violence Flares Briefly at Plant

BULLETIN

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn. —(U.P.)—Fighting broke out today for the second straight day between pickets and non-strikers at the Swift and Armour meat-packing plants here.

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn. —(U.P.)—Officials of the striking CIO Packinghouse Workers union said today they would "try to comply" with an injunction against mass picketing at the Swift and company plant where violence flared yesterday.

Glenn Chinander, union field representative, said the area strike committee decided at a meeting last night that it would obey the temporary order issued by Dakota county District Judge W. A. Schultz.

Schultz signed the order yesterday after watching the angry strikers surge through the narrow streets, battling with non-strikers and overturning several automobiles.

The strikers paraded quietly today, but they did not hide their anger at the workers who crossed their lines in compliance with the company's back-to-work order.

The union contended that yesterday's outburst was a spontaneous protest against non-strikers and the attempts of the packers to restore operations despite the walkout which is in its 59th day.

Chinander said he would ask the International union to attempt to persuade Gov. Luther Youngdahl to enter the dispute as arbitrator.

"The people want the strike settled," Chinander said, "and the union wants it settled. It's up to the packers. If they would accept the proposal to arbitrate, the strike would end."

1948 National Air Races To Offer Big Prize List

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A minimum of $100,000 prize money in six major trophy events will be offered in the 1948 National Air Races, President Frederick C. Crawford announced today.

The races will be flown at Cleveland airport over the Labor day week end Sept. 4, 5 and 6.

A new departure in the 1948 races will permit foreign craft to enter the trans-continental Bendix race, Crawford said. He said that several owners of British Mosquito bombers have indicated they will participate.

A jet division of the Bendix race again will be flown by one of the U. S. military services, Crawford said.

Foreign pilots and planes also will be eligible to fly in the $7,500 Tinnerman international trophy race. The first five places in the field of 10 in this opening pylon event will be reserved for foreigners.

Other events include:

A new 105-mile Sohio handicap trophy race limited to 10 entries handicapped according to speeds made in qualifying tests the week before the show.

AIR FORCE JETS

The Allison jet trophy race, to be flown again between Cleveland and Indianapolis by U. S. Air Force fighter planes.

A $5,500 women's event, sponsored by the Kendall Refining company, limited to AT-6 and SNJ-type planes.

The $25,000 Goodyear trophy race for midget, home-made speed planes.

The Thompson trophy race for the national closed course championship for planes of unlimited power. The total Thompson purse is $40,000 with $16,000 for first place. The distance is 300 miles flown in 20 laps over a 15-mile course.

Plans Go Ahead For Cycle Races

Preparations were nearly completed today for the first motorcycle races of the season to be held Sunday at the Mansfield Motorcycle club track on U. S. Route 30-N seven miles west of the city.

Nine events will be on the card in novice, amateur and expert classes. Approximately 25 to 30 entrants are expected Don Christman of Galion, president of the Motorcycle club, is in charge of the races.

Softball Group Meets at YMCA

The regular monthly meeting of the Mansfield softball commission is scheduled for 7:30 tonight at the YMCA.

Twenty-three teams have signed for competition in the four city leagues which are slated to begin 1948 league play next Monday night. Schedules will be approved at tonight's meeting and will be mailed to the team managers tomorrow or Saturday.

Illinois, Michigan Tilts To Decide Big 9 Baseball

CHICAGO —(INS)— The Western conference baseball title will rest squarely on doings of tomorrow and Saturday at Champaign, Ill., where unbeaten, defending Champion Illinois battles second-place Michigan in a week-end set.

Illinois has won six and lost none. Michigan has a 7-1 record.

The bob-tailed rendezvous should do much, too, towards settling who's the better pitcher—Michigan's Art Dole, who has started four and won four, or Illinois portsiding Mary Rotblatt, who has started three, won three, and has fanned 39 batters in 27 innings.

Rotblatt, incidentally, holds the conference's best batting average, with seven hits in 13 at-bats for a mark of .538.

Fourth place Ohio State (.285) has the best team batting average and Illinois (.990) the best team fielding mark.

Governor Herbert to Start Ohio Olympic Cycle Race

SHELBY—Governor Thomas J. Herbert will serve as official starter for the 135-mile Ohio Olympic bicycle race to be held May 23.

The race will start in front of the governor's mansion in Columbus at approximately 8 a. m., the time having been advanced to conform with the governor's plans. The riders will pass through Mansfield at approximately 2 p. m. and finish in Shelby at about 2:30.

The riders will be accompanied by motorcycle-riding members of the Ohio State Patrol who will be assisted in each city by the local police. For further protection a number of cars will follow the racers with warning signs to autos to be careful in passing them.

One third of the Ohio riders will be eligible to participate in the district race which will be an elimination for the national event.

The race is being sponsored by the Shelby Junior Chamber of Commerce in connection with the Shelby Cycle company. All participants of the Ohio race must complete the official entry blank which can be secured by writing to August Husse, 448 Whittier street, Columbus, or Kenneth L. Swank, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Shelby.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose . . . no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

$28,000 Left To Plymouth Man's Widow

Shiloh Woman Aids Foster Son

The late Frank Kenestrick, of near Plymouth, left an estate estimated at $8,000 in real estate and $20,000 in personal property, his will on file in probate court today showed.

The executor of the estate, H. M. Kenestrick, is to hold the property in trust, with the income going to Mrs. Dora Kenestrick, the widow.

On her death, the will provides for the trust to be terminated and the property to be divided between the executor, a son of the deceased, and a daughter, Ruth Schwemley of New Washington.

The will of Alice Maring, late of Shiloh, stipulates that her stock in the Shiloh Savings bank shall go to Cloyd McQuate, with the balance of the estate going into a trust for the benefit of a foster son, Noel Maring.

On his death, the remaining estate is to be divided, with half going to the Methodist Children's home at Berea and the other half to a church home for the aged to be designated by the executor.

The estate was estimated at $5,000 in real estate and an equal amount in personal property. A. B. Mabee was named executor.

Stage Is Set For Battle

CHARLESTON, W. Va. —(UP) —The stage was set today for another hot senatorial battle between U. S. Sen. W. Chapman Revercomb, Republican incumbent, and former Sen. M. M. Neely, Democrat, as both were nominated in West Virginia's primary election, Tuesday.

Revercomb unseated Neely in 1942 in one of the hottest races for a U. S. Senate seat in the state's history.

Rush D. Holt, "boy wonder" of the Senate in the early New Deal days, conceded the nomination to Neely after he had rolled up a two-to-one lead.

Rev. Dillon will be installed June 13.

Hotel Guests Lose $238

Four Victimized While They Sleep

Police today were looking for the light-footed thief who early yesterday entered two rooms at the Mansfield-Leland hotel and stole a total of $238 in cash while four men slept on peacefully, unaware they were being robbed.

Joseph Wright, the hotel's manager, reported to police that two rooms, one on the seventh and one on the second floor were entered.

The thief entered the unlocked rooms and took wallets from the guests' trousers hanging in the closets. After removing the money, he discarded the billfolds in the hall.

The two men sleeping in room 711, Saul Steinberg and Al Freedman, both of Cleveland, reported they lost $150 and $73, respectively.

T. F. Peckenham, Youngstown, and Lawrence W. Amy, Akron, occupants of the second floor room, lost $10 and $5 respectively.

Club Workers Attend School

GALION — Grace Thomas, secretary of the Galion Automobile club, and two clerks of the club, Pauline Schalip and Inella Ritz, were in Columbus Monday and Tuesday attending the annual spring travel school of the Ohio State Automobile association.

The school has been designed to answer the needs of the travel counsellor this coming spring and summer travel season.

The new Alaskan highway will be the chief subject of discussion.

Candidates List Expenses With Board

Candidates for the sheriff nominations spent more in their primary campaigns than other candidates who have filed statements of campaign expenditures, figures at the Richland county board of elections office showed today.

Deadline for filing the reports is 6:30 p. m. Friday. Reports filed so far show that Thomas J. Campbell, defeated for the Democratic nomination for sheriff received $121 in contributions. He reported spending $133. The other candidates reported they received no contributions.

Topping the list in campaign expenditures was E. P. Long, who won the Democratic nomination for sheriff. He reported spending $207.

C. M. Chatlain, winner of the Republican nomination for sheriff, listed his expenses at $132, while Leonard J. Parrella, an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, reported spending $160.

John W. Selby, Republican, renominated for county commissioner, listed campaign expenditures at $60.

Other expenditures listed include: Neil S. Robinson, Republican nominee for county representative, $18; Charles C. Payne, county treasurer, $17; Walter E. Rusk, county engineer, $12; Harold Lutz, Democratic nominee for prosecutor, $18, and Guy Stewart, Democrat, renominated for county commissioner, $22.

Reporting that they had no campaign expenditures were Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer, Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, Howard R. Barnes, Republican nominee for recorder; O. W. Whitney jr., and Charles G. DeVoe, district delegates to the Republican national convention; Charles V. Critchfield, district delegate to the Democratic national convention; Louise DeVoe, Republican state committeewoman; Paul McFeely, Republican state central committeeman, and Mrs. Dorothy M. Davis, Democratic state central committeewoman. These candidates were unopposed.

TENTING DAYS OVER

PERU, Mass.—(U.P.)—After six months in a tent, Mr and Mrs. Harry Oakes have found a home for their six children. They purchased a woodchopper's cabin and planned to build an addition to house their family during the winter.

Sun's Rays Heat Homes

TOLEDO — Workmen, perspiring in frigid winter weather as they worked in their shirtsleeves, were partly responsible for directing attention to solar radiation which has led to the popularity of today's solar house.

George Fred Keck, a Chicago architect, was building an all-glass house as a showpiece for the Century of Progress exposition. One winter morning when Keck went to the house he noticed that although the furnace was shut off it was exceedingly warm inside.

His conclusion, naturally, was that the sun had warmed the house to a temperature of a summer day. Keck figured that if a house were built so that principal living areas would face south, with extended eaves, the low-hanging winter sun would penetrate deep into the living room, but the hot rays of the summer sun would be blocked out.

It requires about 195 minutes for the sun's meridian to cross the United States.

Cross-Country Messages Speeded

Telegrams Join 'Push-Button' Age

After midnight Friday, telegrams from Mansfield will join the "push-button" age, flashing across the country at the rate of five minutes per message.

A switch-over to push-button operation in the Mansfield office will cut transmission time sharply according to Richard R. Funk, acting manager of the local Western Union station.

Funk said about $2,000 worth of new electronic equipment had been installed to make possible the latest streamlined telegraphy method

When it goes in operation, a telegram which now takes approximately one hour to reach New York City, will be transmitted in five minutes. The same sharp cut in time consumed in relaying will be true for messages to San Francisco which now takes from an hour and a half to two hours.

Mansfield's switch-over will follow up a state-wide conversion made this week. All messages will be relayed at Cincinnati where the message tapes will be mechanically shifted to their proper channels. Loudonville messages will be relayed through Mansfield.

16 MAJOR CENTERS

Funk said that when the Western Union's mechanization and plant improvement program is completed, switching centers in 16 major cities will comprise the national network, with each center serving an area of several states.

In addition to Cincinnati, switching centers have been installed at Atlanta, Richmond, St. Louis, Dallas, Oakland and Philadelphia. Remaining centers are scheduled for completion by 1949.

With the new push-button system, each telegram is typed only once, at the point of origin, preventing mistakes in the old retype system formerly used at the relaying points.

Here's how the new system will work, as explained by Funk:

A telegram, sent from Mansfield and addressed to Los Angeles, is received in the Cincinnati switching center where a telegraphic device simultaneously punches combinations of holes in a paper tape and prints the telegram on the margin of the tape.

SAME BOTH WAYS

A clerk in Cincinnati, reading the destination on the tape as the telegram arrives, presses a button marked "L" and the message immediately flashes to the center in Los Angeles. There the signals are automatically received in printed form ready for delivery.

Telegrams coming to Mansfield will receive the same fast and efficient switching, Funk said.

Two other new features of Western Union's new high speed system are the radio beam network and telefax. The radio beam, now in experimental operation between Philadelphia and New York, when perfected will eliminate service interruptions due to ice, high wind and falling trees.

The telefax, which has the appearance of the ordinary desk telephone, is designed to provide fully automatic "picture" transmission of telegrams.

Tests indicate that an acre of cotton can be produced with 30 hours labor with machines compared with 130 hours of hand labor.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE SIX — MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1948

Congratulations to Madison high school for adding baseball and track to its sports program.

Grove Patterson reports that under the Marshall Plan the British are to get several million dollars worth of American tobacco. Rightly, he wonders if this is the way to get Europe back on its feet.

One Thing To Be Glad About

THE WEATHERMAN said cloudy and cooler today. And that's just about the attitude many of us take toward the wonders of Maytime in this area. Never has the dogwood bloomed more profusely; never have the violets had a richer color. The azaleas are riotous this year and the new foliage in Central park is a delight to see.

Yet most of us cloud our eyes and our thoughts with miserable murmurings about strikes and prices and the Russians. Somebody has to murmur about those things, to be sure. Somebody even has to DO something about them. But no one will be hurt if you take a few minutes of the day to admire the wonders of this month of flowers. In fact, a look around out of doors may make you feel that there's something to be cheerful about, after all.

State Jogs Health Department

FURTHER evidence that the administration of the city-county health department leaves much to be desired is brought to light by action of State Health Director John D. Porterfield. The Ohio director has warned that unless a full-time commissioner is employed by the board by July 1, the department may lose $18,000 in federal grants-in-aid.

Among other things threatened, by the loss, is the cancer diagnostic clinic, Dr. Porterfield warns. This is one of the newest and most vital of public health services. To cripple the clinic in any degree at this time is unthinkable.

We do not believe in reading any innuendo into Dr. Porterfield's statement. But his words taken at face value are serious enough. He says: "If it becomes obvious that the health board is not seriously trying to get a new man and is refusing prospective applicants without good reason, then the money will be cut off."

The reason for this assertion seems clear. The board decided last December to oust Dr. F. O. Tonney, the last full-time commissioner. It was even rumored that the board had decided some months before that Tonney must go. There has been therefore an interim of five months in which to find a commissioner. At this writing none has been found.

If, as has been so often complained, the salary is too low to attract a competent man, then the obvious answer is to raise the salary. If, on the other hand, it is politics that has caused the inaction, politics should be promptly forgotten in the urgent matter of public health.

It is not only a question of getting the health department functioning on full-time efficiency. It is also a question of setting up a program of improved health practices that might well include a restaurant grading ordinance, fly and mosquito control measures, and abatement of the rat nuisance.

Here is a challenging, important job that is being flubbed.

Guessing What Might Have Been

IN THE MEMOIRS of Winston Churchill, a talk with Von Ribbentrop is related. It took place in London in 1937. Churchill was then a member of parliament, Von Ribbentrop was Nazi ambassador.

The German stated that Germany needed living room for increasing population, was prepared to absorb Poland, Danzig, White Russia, the Ukraine. Churchill indicated the British would oppose such expansion, with war if necessary. Von Ribbentrop replied that Germany did not think England would fight.

During the period of World War I, Theodore Roosevelt and others expressed the opinion that had Woodrow Wilson threatened the kaiser with war as he was about to invade France, Germany would have hesitated and hostilities would have been avoided. Would the kaiser have listened any more attentively to Wilson than did Von Ribbentrop to Churchill?

Speculations of this sort are idle. What's done is done, and unknown factors might have produced events different from any possible speculation.

Every American likes to make swift judgment: "He ought to do this!" Every imaginative and thoughtful soul indulges in the speculation: "If we just had sense enough to move in that direction!" But these too often ignore the exigencies of congressional processes, or the time required to accomplish a purpose. No president, for example, may threaten war on his own account. No responsible human being, president, congressman or plain citizen, moves toward war with anything but the deepest reluctance.

Yet we all love to speculate, and why should we not? Sometimes we do learn something that helps next time. And often the spotlight of history shows a moment when the fate of the world hung in breathless balance and it looks as if it could have been pushed by a word toward progress or toward catastrophe.

What would have happened had von Ribbentrop been persuaded by Churchill?

History In Making Is Hard To See

PRESIDENTS and other statesmen may not recognize really important events when they see them. The major event of 1854, as we now know, was Commodore Matthew C. Perry's forcible opening of Japan to western trade and ideas. Though this was a naval expedition of the United States government, how much space did it get in President Pierce's 21-page annual message to congress? Two sentences.

It's Gen. Eisenhower's idea that another war could be started by "some act of stupidity"—so there's apparently plenty of cause to worry.

What Some Other People Are Saying

PHILIP MURRAY, CIO president: "Organized wealth was never more powerful. Entrenched, greedy men are in the saddle. They are restraining labor from exercising its common rights."

* * *

W. AVERELL HARRIMAN, U. S. ambassador at large for the American aid plan to Europe: "Russia is putting an entirely distorted interpretation of the Marshall aid plan. I yet have to see a single statement which has the slightest relationship to reality."

* * *

BERNARD M. BARUCH, adviser to American presidents: "It would be the most auspicious commencement of discussions for an understanding between the United States and USSR if the full text of the U. S. note were made public to the Russian people."

Missing the Spring Dance

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Politicians Pick the Candidates

CHICAGO—Anyone who fondly believes that the voice of the people is going to play a decisive part in the great battle for the Republican nomination from now on should take a practical lesson in Illinois politics. Here, as in many other states, the voters have had their last whack. After the various primaries and local conventions, professionals take over.

The fact is that no one has or can win enough victories in popular primaries to be a truly overwhelming national people's choice. Stassen has done his best; but with so many favorite sons in the field and the disinclination of candidates to enter primaries away from home, the Minnesota man's field of action has been limited.

In 1912, when the bloom was on the primary and bright-eyed idealists were talking about a prodigal government coming home to the paternal people's roof, Bill Taft and T. R. put on whirlwind bouts in many states. This year such personal engagements will be limited to a very few states.

After the delegates have been chosen, the public gets only flitting glimpses of what is going on. Talk is in whispers, and nothing is as it seems. From now on, even the Stassen people must work with the tools customary in the trade. And let it be known that they are not greenhorns.

Here in Illinois, even a most industrious correspondent can report little of what will happen. But he can say a lot about what may happen. Politics is played for keeps in Illinois. Outwardly, the battle between the parties seems fast and furious. It is, in fact, governed by Queensbury rules indigenous to the state.

* * *

Snatched Nomination.

This is the state, it should be recalled, which, in 1860, snatched the nomination of Lincoln from New York's practical but overconfident Thurlow Weed and W. H. Seward. The Illinois boys were no slouches then. They are no less astute now, although they have no star like Lincoln this year.

The Illinois people have no great influence in other states, but they have 56 votes in the national convention. This group is a mobile band, a real armored division that makes up for its limited size by unlimited maneuverability. Its leaders keep open the best of relations with all leading candidates in other states. They can watch the rising or falling fortunes of the various contenders with calm and then choose the exact moment to throw their strength where it will be best for Illinois. Their effectiveness will be measured by their shrewdness.

To be sure, they have a candidate of their own in Governor Dwight Green. He is the favorite son, and he is one of the two or three strategic state directors in his own right. The Illinois crowd is not unaware that, after a lot of blood, toil, sweat and tears in Philadelphia, it would be no miracle if the laurel crown finally rested upon the Green brow.

Green is to be keynoted in Philadelphia, which is regarded as an excellent opportunity to make or break a candidate. It is certain that no effort will be spared to see that Governor Green's speech will do him no harm.

Green is an extremely lucky man. Since he first entered politics, and especially since his first election as governor in 1940, fortune has smiled on his efforts. He became a candidate just as the great Democratic flood was retreating from the agricultural areas of the Middle West.

The Kelly machine, straining every effort to turn in a big majority for Roosevelt, simply could not summon the strength to elect every Democrat on the ticket. The Kelly machine was never adverse to taking half a loaf, especially when the federal end of the loaf held the most plums and raisins. Twice, Green won as candidate for governor, while Roosevelt carried the State.

It is clear now that Green and his group, after eight years of power in the state, would be happy to move into the ampler pastures of the federal government in Washington. This might come through the vice presidency, the cabinet or the Big Job itself.

Colonel McCormick editorially favors MacArthur. He does not favor Stassen or Vandenberg. He opposes Dewey with somewhat less vigor. But it is certain that the Republican organization itself is on reasonably friendly terms with practically all the possibilities. For, as I suggested above, Illinois politicians are practical people.

Washington Calling

Storm Over the Atom

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The other day a group of top scientists, including several who had contributed vitally to the discovery of atomic fission, met with Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper, chairman of the Senate-House atomic energy committee. They listened to Hickenlooper explain why it would be impossible to confirm David Lilienthal and the four other members whom President Truman has reappointed to the atomic energy commission.

Hickenlooper told the scientists that a move for confirmation would be the signal for a mud-slinging attack that would come from both Democratic and Republican sides of the Senate chamber. With what seemed to the scientists to be deep sincerity, he expressed concern that the work of the commission would be impaired by such a fight.

His own compromise plan to extend the terms of all commissioners for two years, Hickenlooper argued, would avoid that fight. Furthermore, as Hickenlooper presented the case, it would give the commission a chance to carry through certain plans now in the transition stage.

An open attack now, with charges and counter-charges flying back and forth, would upset those plans. No body of men, however capable and determined, could have brought about the transition of atomic research from a wartime to a peacetime basis in so short a period.

False starts and moves, certain to be construed, at this stage as mistakes, were inevitable. Thus, when the AEC arbitrarily ordered the closing down of the laboratories at Oak Ridge in Tennessee, which were to be re-established later near Chicago, it produced an angry outburst from the hundreds of scientists involved.

There entered in here too, the South's right to keep this center. That would undoubtedly figure in a confirmation fight.

To say that the scientists were convinced by Hickenlooper's presentation would be an oversimplification. Politics, it seemed to some of them, was a game played by the old rule of heads I win, tails you lose.

What has happened in this connection might have been averted in an election year but from the beginning the likelihood was for just this sort of impasse. It began when President Truman failed to consult Hickenlooper or any member of the Senate-House atomic committee about his reappointment of the commissioners, whose terms expire in August.

The Senate-House committee was created under the McMahon act and given broad powers of supervision. That in itself would seem to have put a responsibility on the president to confer with the committee over the all-important appointments.

* * *

Storm Signals Up.

When he failed to so so, even after Hickenlooper asked him to consider a compromise, the storm signals went up. Republicans who had come to Lilienthal's defense last year and had made his original confirmation possible—among them, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg — became convinced the president was deliberately seeking to make a political issue.

Vandenberg makes the point that the law provided for a 12-months shakedown run for the commission and that the fight over confirmation last year had the effect of cutting that in half. This is one reason he favors the Hickenlooper compromise.

Without his support, confirmation of the president's appointments is obviously impossible. Senator Robert A. Taft is insisting that the terms of the commissioners be extended for only one year. Taft will get some support for this move.

Nevertheless, the strong probability is that the Hickenlooper compromise will come out of committee and be passed by the Senate with relatively little debate. The House is expected to follow this lead.

Then, of course, will come the gravest test. If the president should exercise his veto power, the whole atomic-energy program would be left suspended in mid-air until next January. That is why the scientists are hoping that President Truman will rise to the occasion and accept what would seem to be the inevitable.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Anderson Reversed Farm Leaders

By DREW PEARSON

(Clinton Anderson, retiring Secretary of Agriculture, today receives the brass ring from Drew Pearson, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round.)

* * *

WASHINGTON—Several editors have said some nice things about this columnist in connection with winning the Italian elections. However, the real man who won the elections stepped out of the Truman cabinet this week and went back to New Mexico to run for the United States Senate.

For if Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson had not made a certain, vital decision regarding farm policy at the end of the war, starvation and communism both would be rampant in Italy today.

Few people know about that decision. It came at the end of the war when American farm leaders had visions of farm surpluses and falling prices. Wanting to avoid a farm slump, the killing of little pigs and the plowing of cotton, farm leaders urged less production.

But Secretary Anderson said no.

This was a tough decision to make. For if Anderson was wrong, it meant that he would be cussed out by farmers for years to come. Carefully he read the reports of David Houston, secretary of agriculture under Woodrow Wilson, for guidance. Houston gave him none.

Nevertheless, Anderson finally demanded that farmers increase, not decrease production—which is the big reason why we have had enough grain to feed Europe.

* * *

No Picture Farmer.

Clint Anderson has been one of the most refreshing and variegated personalities in the turbulent Truman administration. Once when asked by the March of Time to pose with a pitchfork, he said: "I'm an insurance man, not a farmer." Actually he has a cattle ranch back in Albuquerque, has made a lot of money at insurance, voted against all insurance measures in the House of Representatives.

Though wealthy, he has made some of the most effective speeches in Congress championing labor and blasting lush business profits.

FDR was one of his idols, and the Anderson library on the late President is one of the best in the country.

Coming to New Mexico from South Dakota because of lung trouble, Anderson first worked for the Albuquerque Journal where he uncovered the first tip on the Fall-Teapot Dome scandal. This was the fact that the then Secretary of Interior had received a $25,000 stallion from Harry Sinclair. That started the train of circumstances which finally upset the Teapot Dome lease, brought two resignations from the Coolidge cabinet and sent both Fall and Sinclair to jail.

Later, Anderson went into insurance, became the biggest individual insurance man in his state, then was elected to the House of Representatives. Now Anderson is going home to run for the upper branch of congress — the U. S. Senate.

Though Anderson says he was a better congressman than cabinet member, actually he did an outstanding job as Secretary of Agriculture.

* * *

Solving Soap Shortage.

Not only in regard to grain, but sugar, copra and cotton was he most farsighted. During the first months after the war, the world, desperately hard up for soap, received no coconuts from the Philippines. Plenty still grew there, but weren't being harvested. So Anderson induced the Army and Navy to send small boats up Philippine rivers and trucks to inland plantations — until enough copra was carried out to solve the world's fat and soap shortage.

The end of the war also found the U. S. Commodity Credit corporation with 7,500,000 bales of surplus cotton. Not only was the taxpayer likely to be stuck for this cotton, but the surplus had a depressing effect on the market.

So Anderson conceived the idea of selling it to Japan and Germany for the manufacture of textiles. Both countries needed a non-war industry, and textiles were the best answer. Anderson sold Japan and Germany the cotton; the American cotton farmer benefited; Europe and Asia got badly needed clothing.

* * *

Sugar Salesmanship.

One of Anderson's greatest triumphs was his purchase of two Cuban sugar crops at the same time. Sugar then was scarce, and in order to keep prices down, he wanted to buy both the 1946 and 1947 Cuban crops. But the Cubans said no, and agriculture department emissaries got nowhere with them.

Finally Anderson, himself, went to Cuba, called on President Grau San Martin.

"This is a situation where Cuba can win the good will of the United States for a long time," he told the Cuban president. "Cuba faces the alternative of having sugar prices shoot way up, then come down with a crash—or of keeping them steady. A boom and bust such as after the last war isn't going to do you any good. But if you cooperate with us now, we'll remember it."

President Grau said he agreed, but that Cuban workers were afraid the price of U. S. wheat, lard, etc., would go up, so they would find themselves paying more while sugar sold for the same low price. So Anderson proposed an escalator clause by which the price of sugar would increase if the cost of American lard and wheat increased.

The President of Cuba agreed. In 72 hours Anderson had closed a deal which other emissaries had not been able to sign in six weeks. That is one reason why the price of sugar has remained so stable.

Most people think that running the department of agriculture is a matter of putting out booklets on soil conservation, boll weevil and how to preserve vegetables. But it isn't. And in these days where crop shortages can cause communism, the USA has been lucky to have as secretary of agriculture a farsighted statesman.

Timely Editorial

Qualified Expert?

Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright has written to several congressional leaders urging that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be brought home immediately so as to give the nation the benefit of his views on how to defend the country against domestic and foreign enemies.

There may be good and sufficient reasons for MacArthur to come home. (Incidentally, Wainwright is chairman of the Veterans Committee for MacArthur for President and the Republican convention is approaching.)

But after 11 years in the Pacific, can MacArthur qualify as an expert in dealing with domestic affairs? A lot has transpired in these 48 states since 1937.—Akron Beacon Journal.

Gentleman of Virginia

By KENNETH L. DIXON

VIENNA, Va. — This is the story of the Virginia gentleman and the four displaced persons.

Paul E. Rhinehart, who lives at nearby Peacock Station, Va., is a 76-year-old Virginia gentleman—and as far as this correspondent is concerned, you can spell that word "gentleman" with capitals.

He is a tall, lean, white-haired citizen who wouldn't have to join any organizations or make any speeches to prove he was an American.

Not now, at least.

He has a beautiful, 600-acre farm up here in northern Virginia, and it isn't just a hobby with him. He's a farmer. If you've been born to the farm, you can tell those things.

He doesn't talk a whole lot, and when he does have something to say, it's usually expressed with old - fashioned phrases. Maybe the words he uses easily—words like "hope" and "humanity"—wouldn't be considered such hot repartee at the Stork club or a Washington cocktail party, but under the circumstances they'll do . . . Yes, they'll do . . .

Several months ago, he decided he wanted to do something to help out some of the homeless refugees of Europe. The Stratton bill for letting in a lot of Europe's displaced prsons was being kicked around in congress at the time.

"But we decided to get ahead of Congress," Rhinehart says. "If we're really going to build a new world, we're going to have to put hope back into humanity . . ."

So what could he do? Well, he figured he could make a place for some European homeless, right away.

Because he knew of their work, he contacted the Catholic Charities of Northern Virginia and outlined his plan. They passed him on to the Catholic Committee for Refugees in New York. They understood and went to work, but it took a while for things to work out . . .

Meanwhile, behind the barbed wire of a displaced persons camp in Salzburg, Austria, the Zielezinski family was living—35-year-old Marion, 23-year-old Irma, and their two baby boys, Marian jr., and Stanislaw, both of whom were born in that same camp where their parents spent their "honeymoon," some three years ago.

Natives of Poland, the Zielezinski's originally were farm people. But in German slave camps and in Russian slave camps they had done what they had to do—and it actually was in a factory in Salzburg that they first met. And after they met, were liberated and married, they spent their "freedom" in a D.P. camp.

They had just about given up hope of ever living a really free life on a farm again. And then word came from America . . .

* * *

No Words Needed.

Last Saturday afternoon, the Zielezinski family arrived at the Rhinehart place, carrying their total belongings in two suitcases.

Those belongings looked sort of lost in the five-room house that Rhinehart turned over to them, rent-free, but there was furniture there and soon there'll be other things. He's also given them a vegetable garden, and offered them $100 a month in addition to help around the place right now. Later?

"Well, I haven't had a chance to talk to them yet," Rhinehart says. "But they can rent, if they want to, or maybe take the whole place over . . . we'll work it out . . ."

The only reason he hasn't "had a chance to talk to them" is that he and they don't speak the same language—vocally, that is. But in their hearts they understand that they have a home, and the Virginia gentleman wouldn't embarrass them by admitting the language difficulties . . .

And this correspondent (whose own American ancestors on both sides happened accidentally to far predate the Revolution) only hopes that a few of those snobs who recently have been giving this country a bad name with their talk about refusing admission to refugees will finally wake up and realize what real Americanism means.

Paul Rhinehart knows.

Fisherman Gets Wet

By CALVIN A. BYERS

The boys went fishing. It looked like rain, but scouts had reported "big fish" in every pool of Honey Creek and measured their length by a hand, a forearm, or even a whole arm! Under the circumstances, all boys—and some Dads—were interested.

They hunted up their rods and improvised tackle, dug bait at the edge of the compost heap, and were off right after breakfast. A little later it began to drizzle. "Fish will bite well," we said, and waited to see which one would get tired first.

Presently the oldest boy came home. He brought a handful of pink thornapple blossoms. After drying his clothes, he settled down with a new magazine. After a while the two younger brothers came streaming in, excited about the "bites" they had had, and the size of the ones that got away. Their hair was plastered down and their pink-tan faces were grimy. They had four little fish—cleaned and drawn with a jackknife. They were hungry.

We ate dinner. Still the second boy had not come. His mother began to worry a little. "Surely he wouldn't STAY away from a MEAL, would he?" she wondered. "I think he would, mother," said one brother. "He was having fun, and he said he would catch a fish this long"—he measured on his arm—"or bust."

It was raining in earnest now. The hills were veiled in shimmering skeins, and low places showed puddles. Water gurgled from overflowing eaves and splashed against the windows. The wind had turned chilly.

Finally, after an hour more, the fisherman came. He was so thoroughly wet that he squashed at every step, but he had a sucker at least a foot long, wriggling on a line, and he'd had a wonderful time.

"An old man was down there fishing. He showed me how to snag one. See—I got him by both lips. He said they go upstream to spawn at this season of the year, that's why the creek is so full of big ones and they're not interested in worms or flies. A kingfisher was there, too. I watched him for a while. He caught three minnows and ate them whole. He had a nest in a hole in the bank that connected with a hollow tree, I believe. Anyway one bird went in below and one came out above. Mighta been the same one.

But the afterclap came the next day when their mother was sorting the clothes for the family wash. One muddy overall had a bulging pocket. Mother's hand went to pull out the handkerchief or whatever—e—ow! The pocket was half full of worms!

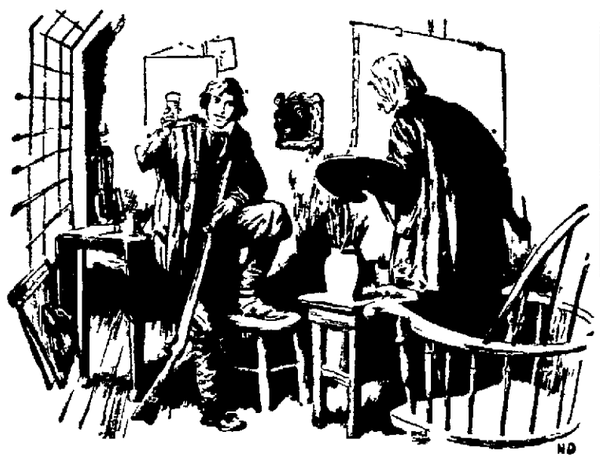
"May you all live long and prosper"



ALL AGES today still thrill as they read the fantastic tale of the beloved Rip Van Winkle and the dwarfs of the Catskill Mountains. Their grandparents and parents actually knew Rip Van Winkle. They saw him impersonated by the great actor Joseph Jefferson, on the stages of their favorite theatres.

Here he is shown in the studio of the artist C. T. Webber posing as Rip and speaking his famous toast "May you all live long and prosper." There is no more appropriate sentiment than this — and no more delightful drink with which to offer it than Wiedemann's Fine Beer

CONROY-GEARY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED WEDNESDAY

Msgr. R. C. Goebel Performs Rite for Mansfield Couple; Ceremony Held In St. Peter's Church.

AT 9:30 O'CLOCK Wednesday morning Miss Norma M. Conroy and Thomas E. Geary exchanged marriage vows in St. Peter's Catholic church. Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiated for the rite.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Conroy, 186 West Dickson avenue are the parents of the bride and Mr. Geary is the son of Thomas Geary sr., 119 East Temple court, and Mrs. Richard Kenton, 287 Beymiller street.

The church was decorated with altar vases and beauty baskets filled with flowers. Palms and ferns formed the background. A double runner extended down the aisle.

The bride wore an original 1898 Period Burmil lustrous bridal satin bridal gown. The yoke was of imported Chantilly lace and the little collar was trimmed with clusters of pearl orange blossoms. The Chantilly lace edged the panier sides that formed the bustle and also the sweeping train. A rhinestone crown (reproduction of Princess Elizabeth's crown) held in place the flowing veil of imported illusion. She carried a white orchid mounted on a white Prayer Book. A shower of white satin ribbon fell from the arrangement.

Mrs. Eveard Penrose, a sister of the bride, wore an 1898 Period gown of golden fawn taffeta. The panier sides formed a soft bustle. The bodice was made with cap sleeves and a high neckline which opened with a lapel collar. Her bonnet was of aquamarine horsehair trimmed with lacy bows of the same material. She wore matching aquamarine lace mitts and satin slippers. Her colonial bouquet was of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Conroy wore a two-piece black taffeta dress with black accessories and white gloves. Her corsage was of red roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a black print dress with which she wore lavender accessories. Pink roses composed her corsage.

William E. Conroy was best man for the bridegroom. Ushers were Eveard Penrose and Norbert Smith.

The wedding was followed by a reception for the immediate families in the home of the bride's parents. Later the couple left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. The bride was wearing a black suit with black accessories and a blue blouse. Her flowers matched her blouse.

When they return to Mansfield they will live at the rear of 32 Greenwood avenue.

The bride was student at St. Peter's Catholic school and served with the Women's Marine corps two and one-half years. Her husband was graduated from St. Anthony's school in Toledo and served five years with the Marine corps. He is employed by the Westinghouse Electric corporation and his wife is an employe of the Veterans' Administration.

"Schools," stated Mrs. Idle, "are called upon to develop values that will lead toward high standards of moral conduct and ethical living. They are urged to provide for the development of creative abilities and afford avenues for expression in constructive activities. What is necessary first is the uncovering of the causes of our failure in education; chief among these being the departmentalizing of education, the rise of vocationalism, the elective system, and the dependence on text books."

Mrs. Ralph McGraw presided for the business session, which included the annual meeting and election of officers.

Annual reports were given by Mrs Idle, treasurer, and Mrs L J. Piller, secretary. The following slate of officers were elected to serve for the next year: Mrs. Stuart R. Voice of Broadway

GOSSIP IN GOTHAM—

Lon Chaney Jr. has had five important screen offers since his close brush with death . . . They say it doesn't mean a thing, but Estelle Taylor is wearing a pretty ring from Jack Dempsey, her once-upon-a-time husband . . . Are Julio de Diegos (Gypsy Rose Lee) knitting tiny garments? . . . Joey Adams, Tony Canzoneri and Mark Plant celebrated their fifth anniversary as an act by drawing up a new contract by which each will share-for-life—in the others' earnings, whether from night club dates, books, theatrical engagements or business ventures . . . Zachary Scott is hospitalized with a badly gashed leg. Happened making pictures . . . Rita Hayworth's new thrill is her make-up man, a fellow named Bob Schiffer . . . Betty Lou Barto has been playing sister Nancy Walker's role in "Look, Ma, I'm Dancin'!" for a week. Nancy has lost her voice . . . Charlie Chaplin is as alone as Garbo always wanted to be at the Sherry-Netherland. He arrived without even Oona to keep him company and the press has given him a wide berth

* * *

Jane Hill of the Bing Crosby crew dropped in by taxi to visit Lenore Lemmon, and left by ambulance. She was stricken with appendicitis during the visit and rushed to St. Clare's hospital . . . Sophie Tucker has decided she likes the hotel business Having recently taken over the Robert E Lee in Miami, she's now flirting with two more . . . Madison Square Garden is toying with the idea of an indoor Aquacade staged by Billy Rose.

* * *

If you want to know how the rich and famous spend their honeymoons: at 4 a. m. Bob Topping and Lana telephoned Eddie Condon's jive joint in Greenwich Village, asked the maestro to "please play us some jazz" and listened for an hour to the concert, courtesy of Alexander Graham Bell . . . American movie firms are beginning to complain about the risque advertising campaigns being staged by the foreign film companies. The imports get away with it, but local outfits can't because all American stills and advertising blurbs have to be okayed by the Johnston Office. . . . Dorothy Lamour's birthday gift to Der Bingle was a tattered second-hand copy of "So This Is Peace"—by Bob Hope. It was a rule at the Crosby party that no guest could bring a present worth more than 50 cents.

* * *

Tops In Town: Joshue Shelley's "Subway Song" routine in "Make Mine Manhattan" . . . Lionel Hampton's new Decca release, "Rockin' in Rhythm" . . . The mystery chiller, "I Want To Go Home," by Frances and Richard Lockridge . . . Sliced tenderloin Leslie, a dream dish, at Leslie House . . . The ballads Linda Parrish sings at Casa Seville . . . Carmen Cavallaro's Decca album, "Songs Of Our Times."

* * *

Negotiations are under way for one of Manhattan's oldest and best-known niteries, of the hot-cha variety, to become one of the many restaurants handled by a nationally famous chain of flapjack places . . . The Arthur Margetsons (he's so good in "The Play's the Thing") have Reno in the beano . . . Paulette Goddard and Burgess Meredith are said to be secretly negotiating for the screen rights to "The Respectful Prostitute" . . . Lois Andrews' current delight is Mickey Hughes, a six-foot, four-inch, dancing instructor . . . Monte's on the Park remembered Mama on Mother's Day by photographing each mother and her brood celebrating there at brunch—and presenting the family with a picture, on the house . . . Want to be confused? Bernarr MacFadden's son, Bruce, will waltz down the aisle with his physical culturist father's new bride's daughter . . . One syndicate has given absolute orders to its staff forbidding the use of the words "New Look" in any story.

* * *

Music Corporation of America and the other big band agencies will spend over a million dollars in promotion on big bands, hoping to revive the jazz ork business, particularly in the department of the once-lucrative one nighters . . . Richard Widmark and his studio are exchanging glares. He doesn't want to play more gangsters without an intermission—the bosses insist . . . Funny switch: Staid bookstores are using the musical hit "Inside USA" to plug John Gunther's book of the same title, which has absolutely nothing to do with Bea Lillie

SLICK SLACKS . . . Norfolk jacket and contrasting slacks, for resort wear.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, May 14

A PROMPT and clever grasp of unusual opportunities, in which there may be hidden factors or undercover incitements, may culminate in very progressive and constructive performance. The mentality is versatile, receptive and fertile, yet finer aspects of imagination, foresight and intuition should heighten the prospect of accomplishment. Change, new contacts, perhaps with unusual persons or propositions, may be to the advantage, giving pleasure and probably exciting intrigues.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are assured of a year of definite promise for important operations probably in new fields, on fresh propositions or projects, and in association with strange persons or organizations, who may prove enchanting, intriguing and thrilling. The mental slant will be keen, versatile and fruitful, enhanced by a capacity for far vision, a deft jumping at conclusions, although imaginative processes, high ideals or stimulated creative urges may spring from hidden or secret inspiration. All matters should flourish, giving new scope and opportunity for welcome change, new environs and pleasant relationships, intriguing and gay

A child born on this day should be richly endowed with a fertile mentality, quick to grasp unusual opportunities, in which hidden creative faculties and forces give success and happiness.

Russia Now At Top In Czech Trade

Trade Balance Unfavorable

PRAGUE —(AP)— Russia has climbed into first place in Czechoslovakia's foreign trade, the authoritative weekly Prague "Economist" reports.

The paper says Yugoslavia was in second place and the United States down to ninth in foreign trade during the first quarter of 1948.

The quarter showed an unfavorable trade balance for Czechoslovakia of $72,000,000, the Russian figure alone accounting for $28,146,000.

From the first days of the communist capture of power, trade officials stressed that this nation would have to keep at least 55 per cent of its foreign trade with the West, and Foreign Trade Minister Anton Gregor repeated that recently in Paris. He added the Czechoslovakia intended to fulfill her commitments.

When he returned to Prague, however, he announced that the drive to increase trade with the planned economy countries would be intensified, which did not argue optimistically for a renewal of a trade treaty with France.

TRADE PACT BEGINS

Russia's rise to the top mirrored the beginning of the workings of a new five-year trade pact signed in Moscow last November. The first quarter also saw much of the delivery of the 600,000 tons of grain promised by Marshal Stalin as part of the deal. The delivery was completed in April, topped by a five per cent bonus.

The first quarter figures also mirrored a huge increase in the amount of food imported and a 75 per cent drop in the value of food exported, as against the first quarter of 1947. Most of this was due to the severe drouth last summer which changed Czechoslovakia sharply into a potato and sugar importing country.

Total imports in the first quarter this year were placed at $224,356,000, and exports at $72,000,000 less.

The Economist figures for the quarter showed that the United States exported $9,070,000 worth of goods into Czechoslovakia, and imported only $5,148,000 from Czechoslovakia.

Voting Costs 500 Lives

SEOUL —(AP)— The first free election in this 4,000-year-old nation cost nearly 500 lives.

But, despite bombings, sabotage and threats of violence, some 7,000,000 South Koreans voted Sunday, U. S. occupation officials reported proudly today.

The 200 national assemblymen they elected will set up Korea's first Democratic government.

Counting of ballots for nearly 1,000 candidates proceeded tediously. It may be several days before all results are known.

Marshall Sends Note to Gurion

TEL AVIV — (UP) — U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall has sent a personal message to David Ben Gurion, premier-designate of the new Jewish state which will be proclaimed here when the British mandate ends, it was revealed today.

Contents of the message were not revealed. It was brought to Ben Gurion by Moshe Shertok, Jewish agency representative at Lake Success, who arrived here Tuesday night from New York.

TOASTMASTERS TRAIN

Hillside Moving

EAST LIVERPOOL —(AP)— A slowly moving hillside today threatened two homes near here. Attributed to heavy rains and the collapse of clay and coal mines, the slide has caused the hill to move at least six inches, city officials said.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Groups Join 'American' Observance

'I Am an American' Day Set For Sunday

Labor organizations, churches, schools and clubs of the city will join Sunday in observance of "I Am An American" day. The observance of Americanism continues throughout next week.

Rev. Charles F. Sheriff, chairman of the mayor's "Good Citizenship" committee, said today that in accordance with the act of Congress and the President's proclamation, all groups in the city would join in a week of intensified Americanism.

"The purpose of the week," Rev. Sheriff pointed out, "is to inculcate in all new citizens — those who have become naturalized and those who have reached maturity—the principles of good citizenship, with the purpose of cementing relationships in a cooperative spirit of tolerance and understanding.

"Our big aim is the furtherance of peace both at home and abroad."

Plans for the observance are in charge of Rev. Sheriff, Carl Kent, Dr. Edwin Fensch, Don Don Cram, Mrs. A. C. Butterfield and Desmond Walker.

Labor organizations will hold programs under the direction of Walker. Mrs. Butterfield will contact clubs and the ministerial association will seek to emphasize the day with special sermons Sunday.

In addition there will be programs of movies, music and recitations in the public schools all during next week, Rev. Sheriff said. In many schools outside speakers will be heard speaking on American patriotism.

One U. S. survey showed that 11 out of every 100 poor people visiting a dentist in a two year period were making their first visit compared with one out of 100 for well-to-do people.

Cold Water Slows Fish

NEW YORK —(AP)— Goldfish will cruise more than twice as fast at 68 degree, fahrenheit, temperature than at 41 degrees. This is reported in the journal of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada by F. E. J. Frey and J. S. Hart of the University of Toronto.

In water of 41 degrees, the goldfish cruised about 40 feet per minute, or less than half a mile an hour The cruising speed of their swimming is like the pace that a marathon runner might keep

At 68 degrees, they cruised 100 feet per minute, or more than a mile an hour. Between 68 to 86 degrees, there was practically no change in speed. Above 95 degrees, the cruising speed declined to 75 feet per minute.

Flying In and Out of Mansfield

Plane's Floats Cause Commotion

MANSFIELD MUNICIPAL AIRPORT — Harold W. Miller, chief mechanic at the Shuey Air Service, Wooster, caused considerable commotion Sunday noon when he kept circling Mansfield Municipal Airport with a Piper Cruiser equipped with floats.

Numerous persons thought the airplane was having difficulty. They could see it was a water plane, and believed he was attempting to make an emergency landing.

This was not the case, however, as his antics were simply a prearranged signal with Richland Aviation that he was headed for Pleasant Hill dam where he was to be met to take his flight test for a private pilot's water rating.

As soon as the test was completed he and Dr. Judd, the owner of the plane, also of Wooster, hurriedly returned to Chippewa Lake where the sea plane is based. They wanted to prepare for a hurried fishing trip into Canada.

★

CAA—Virgil Morgan, chief of the Interstate Airway Communication station at Mansfield Municipal airport, will spend the following week at a conference of the Interstate Airway Communication station chiefs being held at the Congress hotel in Chicago.

★

NEW STUDENTS — Paul R. Rice, Paul I. Berno, Shelton E. Gadd and Andrew M. Scheurer have been enrolled in the commercial pilot's course—John D. Van Cura has entered the private pilot's course.

★

RECENT VISITORS — S. E. Alexander of Toronto, Can., ferrying a new Aeronca Sedan from the factory at Middletown, O., to Toronto.

W. A. Stone of Texas Engineering and Manufacturing Co., Inc., Dallas, Texas, in a Swift airplane. Stone spent the morning at Richland Aviation, Inc., on business and as he desired to stay in Mansfield over night, decided to make a quick afternoon trip to Buffalo, N. Y., and return. He happened to have an empty seat which was eagerly filled by Mrs. Frances Mitchell. They left at 2 p. m. and returned at 6:30 p. m.

RECENT XC's (CROSS COUNTRY TRIPS—Art Schreck and Clayton Tschantz went to Grand Rapids, Mich., in Schreck's new Beech Bonanza the other noon to call upon the Flottorp Propeller company. While there they ran into a prospect for Schreck's airplane and returned that evening in a borrowed Stinson. The Stinson never returned to Grand Rapids as during the week it was sold to "Buddie" Jacobson, formerly of Mansfield.

Leroy Wittemire left for Dallas, Tex., last Friday evening via Cessna 140 to Columbus, O., and DC-3 and DC-4 from there on to Dallas, picking up a new Swift for Richland Aviation, Inc., Saturday afternoon. He arrived in Mansfield Sunday noon and by so doing completed the final and long-cross country flight required in his VA Commercial Pilot course.

Richard Isaly and his two sons of Marion, O., made a business trip to Manistee, Mich. After Isaly completed his business transactions, they returned to Mansfield early that evening. The older son, age 11, had been assigned by his teacher to obtain some first-hand information regarding aviation, and he used this opportunity for gathering the data for his classmates. Isaly reported that he felt certain his son would have no difficulty in using an entire class period describing his trip. Clayton Tschantz made the trip in a Navion and reported flying over some very promising-looking deer country.

Naval Reserve Officers Needed

Recruitment is open for officers of the Naval Reserve because of the extension of quotas, Chief Henry Warren announced yesterday.

Requests have been received at the local recruiting station, Ashland road, for recall to active duty of naval reserve officers, Warren said. Information about enlistments may be obtained at the Naval Armory on the Ashland road.

Blame Put on FDR For Selection Of Wallace as Vice President

IN CONTINUING the revelation of Henry Wallace's infatuation with Nicholas Roerich, his Russian guru, I would like to emphasize the fact that this is the bubble-head who was made vice president of the United States by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1940, long after the events disclosed.

Roosevelt's guilt in naming as his successor in the event of his own death a man capable of Henry's stealthy conduct and his incredible follies is a point that I insist upon.

Some of Roosevelt's idolators, and a few editors, too, who insist that they are not new dealers, have said that all this is water over the dam and that to drag Roosevelt's name into the recountal is to indulge in mere hatred.

★

All history is water over the dam, however, and they act as if the placing of the blame for Wallace were inspired only by hatred of Roosevelt, which is not the case. The point is that Roosevelt personally did this to the United States, and I defy any defender of his reputation to justify either the selection itself or the Hitlerian or Stalinian manner of it.

Frances Perkins and James Byrnes, in their memoirs, reveal that each thought that Roosevelt had confided to her/him, and to nobody else, the historic honor of transmitting Roosevelt's choice to the convention.

This inveterate double-crosser could not resist the impulse to deceive even his most obsequious flunkeys. At least five such individuals have now naively boasted of having played this sordid piece of business in our great political tragedy. All agree that "democracy" was mocked. The convention had no voice in the nomination of Wallace. Roosevelt "picked" him. The convention roared like a lynching mob but finally obeyed. Will anyone deny that?

It will be futile to argue that Roosevelt did not know all about Wallace's involvement of Roerich's activities. By 1940, this guru's affairs had been in litigation in the New York state Supreme court, before Roosevelt's own ghost-writer and political assistant, Sam Rosenman, and in the court of appeals of the District of Columbia.

In both cases, justice was tempered with politics so Wallace's name was suppressed. There were, however, some embarrassing references to "Galahad," the name by which he was known to the Roerich cult.

It would be juvenile to believe that Rosenman never thought to tell Roosevelt about the joke on Henry, or that the FBI never made a folder on Roerich and Wallace.

★

The state department had plenty on Roerich. The state department would have been sure to squeal to Roosevelt because Cordell Hull was spittin' mad at the whole, idiotic business and he had no use for Mortimer Snerd Wallace, anyway. So we have to conclude that Roosevelt knew the whole story when he nevertheless told Frances Perkins "Yes, I guess it will be Wallace" for vice president. Nevertheless, this election year the chairman of the Democratic National committee invokes the spook as a guide for President Truman.

Attorneys Plan Change In Fee Bill

Biddle Forecasts Few Increases

The Richland County Bar association will consider revising of the fee bill, used by attorneys, at its meeting tomorrow at 11:50 a. m. in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

The fee bill consists of the schedule of fees to be charged in various cases. Attorney George W. Biddle is chairman of the committee, which has made a study of the present fee bill. He said the bill provides for minimum charges.

Biddle said the committee "has proposed no increases to speak of."

The present fee bill has been in use since July 7, 1944. It was approved at that time individually by practically all attorneys and recognized in the county's courts.

Biddle said the Bar association has been dilatory in making revisions compared to other groups throughout the state.

He said the new fee bill will be considered tomorrow and "quite possibly" will be adopted then.

The bill has been under study for two months. On the committee with Biddle were Attorneys Marion Ward jr., James V. Will Donald E. Akers and L. H. Beam.

Lions Elect Miller Head

James W. Miller, 110 Glessner avenue, owner of the Miller Ornamental Iron Works, was elected president of the Lion club last night at a meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Other officers elected were Emmett A. Miller, first vice president; Milton W. Hess, second vice president; Joseph R. Roby, third vice president; George S. Gondos, lion tamer, and Robert F. Horn, tail twister.

Glenn M. Anderson and Ralph D. Juniper were elected to serve on the board of directors for a two-year term and George W. Hart to a one-year term.

Von Davis will remain on the board of directors for another year. The new officers will assume their duties at the club's July 14 meeting.

Bruce Kendall, Anchorage, Alaska, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting. He showed films and told the Lion members of the opportunities in the Alaskan territory.

Registration Period Opens

Registration days are back, starting Friday. Offices of the Richland county board of elections are open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily and to noon Saturday.

Persons qualified to register or change their registrations have until Oct. 4 to do so in order to vote in the general election in November.

Claims FCC 'Influenced'

Charges Aired As Senate Probe Opens

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Tobey (R-N.H) is on record today charging in effect that the Federal Communications commission has been influenced by "powerful radio interests in this country."

Tobey's statement came as the Senate Commerce committee began hearings yesterday into accusations that the Radio Corporation of America (RAC) has attempted to stifle development of frequency modulation (FM) broadcasting to promote television.

FM is a high fidelity, static-free type of radio transmission. Dr. Edwin Armstrong of New York first developed it in the 1920s.

Armstrong reviewed progress of FM, which he inferred was held back by the FCC at the instigation of RCA.

He accused the FCC of placing a "roadblock" in the path of FM by refusing prior to the war to assign FM proper frequencies.

CHARGES 'INFLUENCE'

Tobey asked Armstrong whether some of the conditions he described indicated "that the FCC has been under the influences of powerful radio interests in this country."

"There is no doubt about it," Armstrong replied.

The accusations against RCA were made by Tobey and Armstrong last April 28 as the committee ended an inquiry into clear channel and superpower broadcasting.

Dr. Charles B. Jolliffe, executive vice president in charge of RCA Laboratories division and the corporation's chief engineer, denied that RCA favored television over FM.

"We do not take a stand in favor of one of these services as against the other," he declared. "We believe in both. And we are convinced the needs of both can be advanced without a feud between the two. In our opinion, the way to promote FM is to promote FM and not fight television."

CHARGES SOVIET FAVORED

Tobey accused David Sarnoff, RCA president, of withholding from the FCC in 1936 a confidential RCA engineering report dealing with FM development. He said that Sarnoff "made a grandiloquent offer" of withholding nothing from the commission, yet kept back this evidence.

Further, Tobey said, the report was withheld generally from the American radio industry, but eight copies were turned over to Soviet Russia.

Armstrong said earlier that he had been given a copy of the report. But he said he did not fully appreciate its 'significance" until 1940 when an attempt was made to make permanent the experimental channels assigned television. The report was represented as backing up all of the claims that Armstrong had made for FM.

Tobey wanted to know if RCA controlled the television patents but not those of FM. Armstrong said this was true. He said he holds the FM patents.

Commission Gets Bonus Form Data

Representatives of the Richland county Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief commission will go to Columbus Friday to attend a two-day session on bonus applications, called by C. W. Goble, director of the World War II compensation fund.

Expected to attend are Harry A. Vandervort, service officer; J. E. Steel, president, and Carl Mapes, member of the commission.

Vandervort said the meeting was called to instruct service center personnel and representatives of veterans' organizations in proper preparation of bonus application No. 2 which is used by the next of kin of deceased veterans in applying for the bonus.

Vandervort said this application form is "more complicated" and there has been considerable difficulty getting it filled out properly.

Eligible for that bonus are the widow, children or parents of the deceased veteran, in that order.

County commissioners yesterday authorized expenses for the trip to Columbus by the three county representatives. Steel, in making the application, estimated the cost at approximately $100.

100 Cigaret Licenses Sold

Close to 100 cigaret vendors' licenses have been sold by his office, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe announced today. He expects some 500 will be sold by the deadline day, May 24.

The licenses, which are good for a year, sell for $25. Half of the money goes to the county, the other half to the subdivision where the business is located.

The tax is provided under state law. Previous to this year, the state received one-half of the money collected, the county one-fourth, and the subdivision one-fourth.

BITTEN BY DOG

William Bowser, 668½ Springmill street, reported to police yesterday that a dog bit him on the right leg while he was walking on Springmill. Owner of the dog, L. K. Freeze, 596 Springmill, was ordered by police to keep the animal tied for 10 days.

Skies Due To Clear

Tired of rain and overcast skies, Mansfielders may get to see the sun tomorrow.

The weatherman said Friday probably will be fair and cool, but there's not expected to be any frost threat.

Nearly a half inch of rain has fallen in the city since Tuesday night, about half of it coming last night. The temperature yesterday and last night ranged from 62 to 49 degrees. It was 57 at noon today.

Weatherman C. G. Andrus at Cleveland described the next two weeks in Ohio as "ticklish" so far as frost is concerned. He said that practically all fruit trees are vulnerable to even light formation of frost.

May 21 is the latest date on record for a killing frost in Ohio. That date is less than two weeks away and Andrus said the chances for a destructive frost "are getting slimmer day by day." He added, however, that "low ground folks need to worry a little until the end of the month."

Court Fines 5 Violators

Joseph Yuncker, Brunswick hotel, was fined $10 and costs for failure to have an operator's license and Willie Harris, 264 East Second street, was fined $5 and costs for failure to display his operator's license on demand.

Boys Blamed In Lootings

Police today sought two young boys who apparently got only refrigerator snacks and a quart of milk after breaking into two homes in the northwest section of the city.

The pair was reported to have broken a window in the home of Harvey H. Raby, 496 Howard street, during early afternoon. This was reported to police by Mrs. Anna Delp, 457 Burns street, at 3 p. m. Her brother, Adam Arras of the same address, told officers he ordered the boys out of his garden earlier.

After checking the vicinity further, officers found that a house at 490 Tracy street, owned by Conrad Sheetz jr., also was entered through the rear cellar door and that food from the refrigerator and a bottle of milk were taken. Witnesses who saw the boys leave the Sheetz residence gave the same description as that given by Mrs. Delp.

Police said Raby reported nothing missing from his home.

Lengthy Walkout Expected

Workers Back Union Action

DETROIT—(AP)—An $8,000,000 "kitty" being raised by the CIO United Auto Workers for their Chrysler corporation strikers today gave the auto industry reason to fear a long walkout.

The big corporation's 75,000 production workers who walked off the job yesterday morning to enforce union demands for 17 cents more per hour were set for a long siege on the picket lines.

"The strike of the Chrysler workers is solid," declared Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer and acting president who is directing the walkout. "They are set for the duration. The Chrysler workers will win."

Some observers estimated the strike might last as long as two months.

Orderly picket lines were set up at 12 Chrysler plants in Michigan, two in Indiana and one in California a short time after the strike deadline yesterday morning.

Only the plant at Newcastle, Ind., was operating yesterday. Union spokesmen blamed that on delays encountered by UAW delegates in reaching the Indiana city with official strike notice.

Norman Matthews, Chrysler director for the union, said the Newcastle workers would be out today to make the shutdown complete.

Almost immediately effects of the auto industry's first major strike in two years began to spread. Briggs Manufacturing company, which supplies Chrysler plants, laid off 11,000 workers today and said the rest of its work force of 13,000 would be sent home Monday.

With the strike a day old, it was still uncertain whether it would be used as a test of Michigan's new labor law.

The Bonine-Tripp legislation requires a strike vote. The UAW, contending it did not apply because several Chrysler plants are outside Michigan, took strike action without such a vote.

Gov. Kim Sigler ordered the Michigan Labor Mediation Board to find out "if the law is constitutional." Philip Weiss, chairman of the board, asked Prosecutor James B. McNally of Wayne county (Detroit) to take action.

But McNally said he needed a formal complaint from the police department, and Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy insisted he could act only if asked to do so by a private citizen.

Stores Offer Bargains

There will be bargains galore in Mansfield tomorrow and Saturday for shoppers in northcentral Ohio.

The story of "Greater Mansfield Days" is told in today's 40-page News-Journal which contains advertisements of stores and other business places participating in the sales event.

"Greater Mansfield Days" serve a two-fold purpose in affording shoppers a chance to save money and giving merchants an opportunity to introduce their new summer merchandise to buyers.

Stores participating in the bargain days event will show yellow and black signs in their windows.

Store Holds Open House

Mansfield's newest market will be opened tonight for public inspection.

The Hall Shamrock market, 518 Park avenue west, will mark open house from 6 to 11 p. m. Coffee and ice cream will be served to visitors at the store tonight.

Charles A. Hall, the proprietor, said the store will open for business Friday at 8 a. m.

Hall formerly operated a market on Bissman court, a short distance from the new store.

Youth, 18, Held On Rape Charge

Albert Elliott, 18, of 225 Newman street, was held in the county jail today on an indictment of statutory rape involving a 15-year-old girl.

Elliott was indicted secretly Tuesday by the grand jury. He was taken into custody last night by sheriff's deputies on a warrant on the indictment.

The indictment was issued sub rosa (secretly), Prosecutor Theodore Lutz said, since the preliminary hearing in municipal court had not been completed.

Motion For New Trial Denied

A motion for a new trial, filed by Delton B. Sergent, defendant in a divorce action, has been overruled by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

His former wife, Mary, was granted a divorce March 19.

In another divorce action, Judge Kalbfleisch granted a motion asking for a change of venue.

J. Frank Mayne, defendant in a suit brought by his wife, Blanche, asked for the change. The case was transferred to the common pleas court of Morrow county.

Third Party Opposed By Steel Union

Delegates Pledge Support to PAC

BOSTON —(AP)— The United Steel Workers voted Wednesday to oppose the third party movement of Henry A. Wallace.

In a resolution, one of 240 presented for consideration by the national convention, delegates voted to "fully support the policy of the CIO in opposing the third party movement at this time."

"We pledge our full and complete support of the Political Action Committee of the CIO in its independent political activity to assure the election of a Congress that will be dedicated to the interests of the American people," the resolution said.

Prior to adoption of the measure, the resolutions committee said in explanation that the third party "has no basic support in the ranks of organized labor . . . and that premature organization of such a party can only contribute to the disunity of the people of this country . . ."

Supporting the resolution, Secretary-Treasurer David J. MacDonald said "We've been trying to build a real potent PAC-Steel Workers organization and we've made some progress." He said that in 1947 the CIO-PAC had $200,000 as a working fund. However, he said the steel workers alone expected to raise $928,670 on June 17, designated as "Philip Murray Day" and this fund would be for PAC work.

Earlier the delegates had adopted a resolution calling on the United States to lift the arms embargo on shipment of equipment and arms to the Jews in Palestine.

Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis earlier described the Taft-Hartley act as "rank anti-labor legislation." He said the law was "prepared and authored by historic enemies of organized labor."

Greek School Sends Thanks For Pupil Aid

Pupils of the third and fourth grades at Brinkerhoff school have received two letters from Greece —one written in Greek and the other in English.

The English version expresses thanks for gifts and pictures sent by Brinkerhoff pupils. The writer, who is the teacher of the class in Thessaly, Greece, explains that the children bought pencils and tablets with the money received from the United States.

It adds that some children in the school could not afford to buy such items because they are too expensive and scarce.

With money received from two other schools, the letter says, pupils bought sweaters, shirts, shoes, vests and coats for the neediest children in the school.

The letter expresses appreciation for the gifts. It adds they plan to have a picture taken and to send it on in appreciation.

The teacher asks one favor on behalf of her pupils — any used clothing no longer needed. She asks that the reply be written in Greek as that will make it easier for them to understand. She also asked for a picture of the Brinkerhoff class.

Jets to Mark Air Milestone

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The postoffice is going to fly some mail next Saturday between New York and Washington in 25 minutes, hardly time enough for the ink to get good and dry.

Two jet planes are going to make the trip as part of the 30th anniversary of the starting of air mail service.

When the first air mail flight between the two cities was made on May 15, 1918, the trip took three hours and 20 minutes, including a 20 minute stop at Philadelphia.

Training At Library Offered

Opportunity for a Richland county college girl to apprentice at Mansfield's Public library for a five-week summer course is being offered again this year, Miss Lois MacKellar, head librarian, said today.

Offered by the Mansfield Memorial board with funds made available from the John C. Larwill legacy, the apprenticeship pays $120 for the five weeks spent in library work.

The course was offered for the first time last summer when Muriel Morton, 179 Lind avenue, was the successful candidate.

Any Richland county college student is eligible to apply. Application blanks are available at the library. Miss MacKellar said letters, enclosing application blanks, also have been mailed to a number of college students whose names have been suggested to the library by school officials.

Purpose of the program is to introduce the library profession to promising students. Only one apprentice will be chosen, the selection made on the basis of scholarship, personality and interest.

Further information on the project may be obtained from Miss MacKellar at the library.

Ganyard Warns Against Too Early Planting

Gardeners Cheered By 'Normal' Weather

Mansfield area gardeners, who have been treated pretty well so far this spring by the weatherman, are preparing for the last phase of their spring planting.

This has been about a normal year, but it's so much better than last year that many gardeners think the planting season is early, County Agent George B. Ganyard said.

Some gardeners, remembering the late season in 1947, have been inclined to plant some crops a little too early, the county agent said.

Such vegetables as squash, beans of all types, tomatoes, egg plant, peppers, and cucumbers should not be planted until warm weather is here. They can be planted by the end of May with reasonable assurance that they won't be nipped by frost, Ganyard said.

Many Mansfield gardeners soon will have radishes, green onions, and lettuce from their early-planted gardens. Peas, which should have been planted late in March or early in April, are several inches tall in a number of gardens and will be ready for harvest next month

PLANTS DAMAGED

The "eager beaver" gardeners who set out their tomato plants and planted beans before last week's frost were sorry they were so hasty. Beans and tomatoes were damaged, but most of them probably will revive with warm weather.

While most of the planting is done in April and May, June is an ideal month for seeding late crops, including some types of sweet corn, carrots, beets, and early-maturing beans Lima beans should be planted late in May or early in June or they may not mature before the first frost

When only a small garden is available, "companion crops" frequently are planted to utilize all the space. This means planting quick-maturing crops in rows between long-season crops. Lettuce, radishes, and spinach can be grown between tomato rows, or sweet corn, late carrots and beets can occupy the space between the rows of peas and onions which are harvested early.

HARVEST 'EM SMALL—When beets are young, their tops are tender and rich in vitamins. The best time to harvest is when the beets are as big as golf balls.

Here are some tips on planting from the National Garden Institute·

Lima beans—When the leaves on trees are well out, plant lima beans Pole limas mature in from 11 to 13 weeks and they bear until frost Bush limas bear about 10 days sooner and may be harvested for about a month Pole beans require strong poles eight or nine feet tall Be sure to set the poles at least a foot deep before planting. If two poles on one row are brought together with two poles in the next row at the top and all four poles are tied together in this position, it will not be necessary to sink the poles so deep into the ground. They will hold each other up

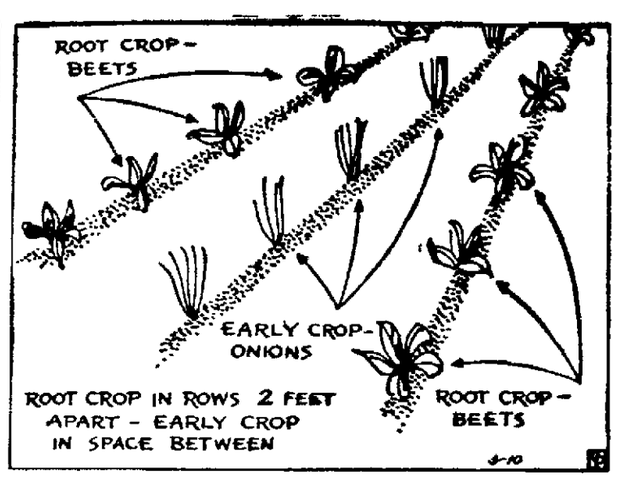
Sweet Corn — In a garden of limited space, corn is a luxury crop On a space three by three feet, you could grow about six or seven ears Corn is apt to shade other vegetables It is also popular with borers and Jap beetles

Vine Crops Take Room—Vegetables produced from vines which ramble over the ground take up a great deal of room These vine crops include cucumbers, melons, pumpkins, squash and sweet potatoes Bush squashes and cucumbers require less space

Broccoli — Broccoli takes space, but being an allseason crop, it will supply you all summer and into the fall. It is easier to grow than cauliflower. Plant the branching type. Six plants will supply a small family.

Standing Collar Against Cutworms. To protect cabbages, tomatoes, peppers, and eggplant against that smooth, fleshy, dingy brown caterpillar, known as cutworm, wrap a paper collar around the stem of these plants when set out, using several thicknesses of newspaper or thin cardboard, a few inches above and an inch below soil level.

Cabbages Like Sweet Soil—Dig a little hydrated lime in around the cabbages They dislike the slightest acidity. Do not injure the roots in applying the lime Broccoli also benefits from this treatment.



COMPANION CROPPING SAVES GARDEN SPACE—Here is a typical plan for companion cropping. The early onions will have been used before the beets become big enough to require the space.

IDAHO CURTAIN LIFTED

MOSCOW, Ida —(U.P.)—The University of Idaho will drop its bars against non-Idaho residents next semester. President J. E. Buchanan said the big rush of veterans appears to be leveling off and construction of additional housing facilities permitted enrollment of selected non-residents.

Boy, 6, Is Artist's Sharpest Critic

Dad Wins Art Prize on First Try

When members of the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild hang up their prize-winning entries in the Public library this week in preparation for their annual exhibit next week, they will include a first entry and a first prize for a Mansfield man.

That man is George Smallstey, 344 Bowman strret, who came to Mansfield six months ago from Pittsburgh because, as he says, "I like the town."

This year's Mansfield exhibit was Smallstey's first attempt at entering a Guild show anywhere.

As a result, he says, "I was completely surprised to win a prize."

PENCIL SKETCHES

His two drawings are pencil sketches, in which he specializes. Both are hunting scenes, one of dogs and a second of horses.

"I've drawn ever since I was a kid," he said. "I really dabble in almost any kind of art work—oils, water colors and pen and ink, but I like the pencil sketches the best. I hope to have some of my paintings on exhibit here."

Smallstey's six-year-old son, Larry, shows great promise in art work.

"You should see his pencil sketches," his father beamed. "He paints right along with me.

"I took him to the Saturday morning classes being sponsored by the City Recreation department and John Bernat thought his sketches were remarkable for so young a chap.

"He not only draws but he keeps his brushes clean, just like any artist. In fact," Smallstey added with a chuckle, "he makes me more particular because he's there to watch."

The third annual exhibit will open at the Library Monday at 1 p. m., and continue each day until 8 p. m. through May 26.

Sunday, there will be a private showing for Guild members. Prizes will be awarded at that time. Thomas G. Zaugg is in charge of show arrangements.

Italy's New President Likes U. S.

High Post Taken By Banker, 74

(Compiled From Wire Dispatches)

ROME—Luigi Einaudi, 74-year-old banker who says he loves America, took the oath last night as the first president of Italy.

A booming 21-gun salute from Rome's historic Janiculum hill ushered him in as Italy's first Republican president under the new constitution.

Both houses of parliament—with the exception of the left wing Socialists and Communists and Monarchists—gave Einaudi a rousing welcome.

The new president admitted he had voted for the monarchy but pledged he would "be faithful to the republic and faithfully observe its constitution."

Einaudi told International News Service that the Italian constitution will be his guide in both foreign and internal policy.

He declined to comment on Italy's future role in world affairs declaring:

"The political and social freedom of the Italian people will be my sole preoccupation. Whatever happens they will not be lost sight of."

In his address to parliament, Einaudi paid tribute to former President Enrico de Nicola.

SHOUT IN DERISION

The Communists and left-wing associates shouted in derision when Einaudi referred to de Nicola's "scrupulous impartiality."

The Monarchists walked out of the chamber when Einaudi took the oath of office. The Communists remained in their seats.

The Italian president, following the ritual of Italian kings, pledged himself to preserve the rights of the individual as against the state and to guarantee all equality.

Einaudi indicated that Italy will continue to cooperate with the western democracies, declaring:

"We already have given proof of our capacity to cooperate democratically in associations which would reconstruct Europe."

Fifty thousand persons took part in the ceremonies leading from the chamber of deputies to the Quirinal palace.

Overhead, new bomber and fighter units of the Italian Air Force circulated.

The United States has nearly one-third the total railroad mileage in the world.

Man Reared By Baboon Pack Dies In South African Home

LONDON—(INS)—The death of South Africa's "Baboon Boy"—who was believed to have been reared by a pack of fierce baboons—was reported today by the London Daily Mail.

The Mail, in a dispatch from Capetown, said that the "Baboon Boy"—known only as Lucas—died at the age of 40 at a farm near Bathurst.

According to the Mail, Professor Dart of Witwatersrand university in South Africa, gave this account of the "real-life Tarzan":

In 1921, a group of policemen fired upon and dispersed a pack of baboons. As the animals fled, they left behind a native Kaffir boy of about 12 years of age.

He apparently was a member of the baboon pack. The child walked on all fours, made only guttural sounds, and gave no indication of ever having had human contact.

For the next 18 years, Lucas, as his protectors named him, learned human habits. He was taught to speak, to perform simple tasks and to walk upright.

Lucas also developed a taste for cooked food, although his favorite dish remained live lizards.

Scientists believed that as a baby, he had been kidnaped by baboons in the Grahamstown area of South Africa.

Although unable to recall many details of his wild life, Lucas did remember eating crickets, ostrich eggs, and wild honey.

The "horse latitudes"—region of light and variable winds—were so named because captains becalmed there often had to throw overboard their cargoes of horses.

Papers Make 'Final' Offer

CHICAGO—(AP)—Chicago's five daily newspapers made a "final" contract proposal to the striking Chicago Typographical union Wednesday, upping to $9 their previously rejected offer of a $6 weekly wage increase.

The publishers said their proposal contained at least eight additional concessions beyond their original offer. They told the union they were anxious to reach a prompt settlement.

The union's 1,500 newspaper printers struck Nov. 24. The newspapers have continued publication through a photo engraving process.

Expediter Named

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Appointment of John F. Kessel as regional housing expediter for Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia was announced Wednesday by Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods. Woods also said Henry M. Stein has been named deputy expediter for the same region.

New London Scout Troop Called One of Finest In Ohio

NEW LONDON—Charles Hupp, field executive for the Firelands area, Boy Scouts of America, recently stated that the New London Boy Scout setup is one of the finest in Ohio.

He also stated that with such a background, scouting here should go far. This is partly due to the fact that the American Legion is doing its utmost to put scouting on the highest possible plane here.

Early in January, under the direction of Rev. John E. Duffy, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic church and present commander of Broome-Wood post 292, American Legion, the post members undertook the task of rebuilding the scout camp at the New London recreation center.

The work of rebuilding, repairing and renovating the cabin was made a major project. A fabric ceiling and new knotty pine walls were the chief alterations. The fireplace was rebuilt and new benches were installed. New windows, a new outside door, a desk curtains, fire screen, grate, and fire tools were added to make the cabin comfortable.

Both Boy and Girl Scouts use the building for their meetings.

Crestline Asks Mutual Aid at Fires

Proposes Assistance Pact With Mansfield

City council has been asked to consider entering into a mutual fire fighting assistance contract with Crestline.

That community's village clerk sent a copy of a resolution recently approved by the Crestline council, authorizing the community's mayor to enter into mutual assistance pacts with cities in the area.

The Crestline resolution states that on several occasions it has been necessary for several villages and cities in the area to call upon neighboring communities to help fight fires and that mutual fire protection would be to the benefit of both parties.

Mansfield turned down such an offer three years ago. City Council Fred Miller recalled that the council was reluctant to use Mansfield equipment to fight fires in other communities, which would not help defray replacements costs should any Mansfield fire engines be damaged or destroyed.

Coal production in the United States during 1946 would have filled 79,000 miles of railroad coal cars.

MAY TEACH BREWING

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—The board of education took under advisement a proposal that New York's public school system offer a course in the art of brew making. The course, to be open only to those already employed in the brewing industry, would be offered in the evening vocational schools.

'Poor' Athletics Show Off With 10 Straight

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

MADISON'S football offensive will look little different next season. . . . Ennis Walker, the Rams' new grid boss, will go along with the Tennessee single-wing style of attack favored by former Coach Jeff DeHaven. . . . Walker feels that it would be mighty hard to change the offensive since he will have little chance to know the playing potential of the players until after he has seen them in action starting Aug. 20. . . . However, he hopes to have many conferences with DeHaven, Nick Weber and Bill Kopical before the season rolls around. . . . The latter two will continue as assistant coaches with Blaine Dowler, basketball and baseball coach, also helping. . . . Walker is an exponent of the T-formation but realizes it will take time to develop an expert ball-handling quarterback. . . . Besides, the current mode of attack has paid off rather well as the 1947 Rams won eight, lost one and tied one. . . . Ten members of that club, including seven first stringers, will graduate this spring. . . . Which means Walker will have to start pretty much from scratch as the Rams face one of their tougher schedules.

DOWLER will also face a problem when the cage season rolls around. . . . Gone will be the first six men on the Rams' 1948 district championship squad. . . . Madison won 20 and lost three last year, being eliminated in the regional tournament by the state championship Findlay squad. . . . The Rams scored more points on the champs than any other team in the state.

THE MANSFIELD Grays plan to add more seats at the Blue Goose baseball field in about three weeks. . . . The park now seats 500 persons and the owners plan to double the capacity. . . . Six teams are competing in the Senior high school intra-mural softball league. . . . The schedule ends May 27. . . . Andy Kerr, 69 years young, has been named as one of the assistant coaches for the annual all-star football game Aug. 20 in Chicago. . . . He spent 18 years as Colgate mentor.

Big Sixth Heat Wins For Macks

By JACK HAND
(AP Sports Writer)

Connie Mack's collection of draftees and hand-me-downs is showing up the rich major league clubs with a 10-game win streak. His Philadelphia A's are upholding the old theory that you can't buy a pennant.

While Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox was writing checks for some $350,000, Mr. Mack was busy scanning the draft lists. By the studious avoidance of any large outlay of cash, the venerable old gentleman has acquired quite a ball club.

And they've been winning quite handily, too, although they did have to struggle to achieve an 8-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns last night. Three hits and four walks added up to six runs for Philadelphia in the second inning, to the delight of the crowd of 21,763.

FADES IN SEVENTH

Dick Fowler, the starter, faded in the seventh and Mack had to follow reliefer Bob Savage with Lou Brissie who worked two hitless innings. The A's thumped loser Cliff Fannin and five successors for 10 hits.

Detroit staged two big innings to down Washington, 14-9, although Hal Newhouser was hammered from the box for the fourth straight time. Dizzy Trout, third of four pitchers, notched the win over reliefer Marino Pieretti.

Sherry Robertson, Washington right fielder, wrenched a knee severely when he slipped while chasing a fly in the eighth.

THREE-RUN HOMER

Bobby Doerr's three-run homer in the 10th inning enabled Boston to grab a 6-5 win from Chicago in dramatic fashion. Cot Deal, who pitched to only two batters, picked up his first major league win at the expense of Earl Harrist.

Rain idled half the National league, the New York at St. Louis and Boston at Chicago games. However, the Pittsburgh Pirates were able to get in a game with the Phillies which dropped them a half game back of the Cardinals.

Blix Donnelly of the Phils handed the Pirates their first shutout of the year, 5-0, allowing only three hits. Ernie Bonham was the loser.

Hank Sauer unloaded his seventh homer, a three-run blast in the last of the ninth, but it wasn't enough. His Cincinnati Reds bowed to Brooklyn 9-7, in a night game.

Joe Hatten, the first of four Dodger pitchers, was the winner over Johnny Vander Meer.

Hiram Runs Over Ashland In Track

ASHLAND — (INS) — Hiram college became a new threat in Ohio track competition today following its second straight victory, 93 2-3 to 33 1-3, over Ashland college yesterday.

The Hiram Speedsters snared 13 first places with Bill Ahonen and Bill Lamb copping twin victories to pace the winners. Ashland's two firsts were won by Don Drebus and Dan Baker, in the broad jump and pole vault, respectively.

Lou Gregorio To Hurl For Tygers Today

The once anemic batting averages of the Senior high baseball team are still a little pale but have improved considerably as the Tygers enter the district tournament.

The Tygers were scheduled to meet Ashland at 4 p. m. this afternoon at Blue Goose park barring rain. Lou Gregorio, bellweather of the mound staff, was Coach Jimmy Lymper's choice as starting hurler.

As the team enters the tournament Joe Miller, as expected is the leading batting leader by a comfortable margin. .371 mark is challenged only by Shelly Swank who is some 70 points behind.

Willard and Bucyrus are scheduled to meet at 4 p. m. tomorrow in a tournament semi-final game while Saturday the winner of today's skirmish tackles Galion in the other semi-final at 2 p. m. Finals will be held Monday.

Looking Sharper

BALTIMORE—(AP)—As if the other four horses didn't have enough to worry about with Citation and Saturday's Preakness Stakes, word comes up from a man who should know that the Calumet colt is looking sharper today than when he won the Kentucky Derby.

Senior High Loses To Dayton Dunbar

DAYTON—Mansfield Senior high school lost its first dual track and field meet in two years here yesterday afternoon to the power laden Dayton Dunbar aggregation, 77½ to 40½.

The Tygers operated without their leading point gatherer—Tommy Tucker. However, the presence of the little ebony flash would have meant little difference in the final outcome. Coach Harry Mehock only hopes that Tucker will be ready for the district meet in Mansfield Saturday.

Dunbar piled up its great margin in the flat running races. The Dayton thinlies had a clean sweep in each of the running events except the 220-yard dash where Johnny Bricker managed a third place.

Senior high school copped four of the five field events and the 120-yard low hurdles. Marty Bricker took the lows but finished second in the high sticks.

TAKES TWO FIRSTS

Big Burt Lindsay was the Bengals' leading light with firsts in the shot put and discus throw. Both winning tosses were far off his all-time Tyger records, however.

Contributing an unexpected one-two punch, George Doyle and Paul Ferguson led the broad jump field while Soph Don Cline came through in the pole vault.

Lynn "Ike" Owens, Dayton's state 880 champ, won his specialty and took second in the mile. Dunbar has been running second to Springfield, Ohio's top track team, in all the big relays.

Tribe-Yank Tilt Rained Out In 4th

NEW YORK—(AP)—Rain—buckets-full of it—saved the Cleveland Indians from what appeared to be a defeat by the New York Yankees last night.

The two clubs spent nearly six hours at Yankee stadium, but played a fraction more than four innings before a massive throng of 63,832, second largest baseball gathering of the season.

When the first night contest of the season in Yankee stadium finally was postponed just before midnight—after two separate delays of one hour and 32 minutes, and 30 minutes—the Yankees held a 3 to 1 lead as a result of Joe DiMaggio's first inning home run with two mates aboard.

A moment after DiMaggio's wallop into the left field stands, a torrential rain came as if in answer to a hasty prayer by the Indians.

It rained for 45 minutes.

Senior High Net Team Wins First Match of Season

NORWALK — The Mansfield Senior high tennis team won its first match of the season in four, starts by defeating Norwalk here yesterday afternoon, 6 to 1.

Shelly defeated Jim Sharpe, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5, and Gandert won over Bill Kemper, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3. Jim Goodman topped Prentice Wickham 6-4, 6-4, and Johnny Crouse edged Nail McAllister, 1-6, 6-1, 6-3 in the other singles matches.

In the doubles, Rod Blahnik and Gandert beat Sharpe and Kemper, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2 and McGraw and Crouse won from Chandler-McAllister, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

The Tyger netters will participate in district competition tomorrow and Saturday at Bowling Green.

4 Clubs Enter Junior League

Four teams last night joined the county version of the junior baseball league which will be sponsored this summer by the Mansfield chapter of the National Hot Stove league.

Representatives from six teams attended a meeting last night in the offices of Stan Kamen, Mansfield recreation director. Mansfield Madison, Lexington, Bellville and Butler are all set with Ontario and Lucas probably coming into the fold.

Lads 18 years of age and under will be eligible to compete. The teams plan to play two games a week, Monday and Thursday nights.

323 Schoolboys In Track Meet

With more than 300 schoolboy athletes already in the field, Director Harry Mehock looks for one of the toughest district track and field meets in recent years Saturday afternoon on the Stadium field oval.

Three more schools "signed up" today, swelling the entry list to 28 teams and 323 individuals. Mehock expects more entries tomorrow. The latest entrants are: Bellville, 17; Ashland, 16, and Tiffin Columbian, 5.

Mansfield Senior high has won six straight Class A championships and New London has copped three straight Class B titles. However, neither school is a top-heavy favorite this trip.

The Tygers' chances depend a lot on the condition of Tommy Tucker, their leading scorer. Tucker, a threat in the sprints and broad jump, has been bothered by a bad leg. He missed the Dayton Dunbar trip yesterday.

Mehock announced today that Ed Barker will act as starter and Paul Snyder will be clerk of course. Barker is secretary of the Ohio Track Coaches association.

Champion and runner-up in each division will get a trophy with the first three finishers in each event receiving a medal. The lads taking fourth and fifths will get ribbons.

The same court which reigned at the far-famed Mansfield Relays last month will pass out the awards at Saturday's big meet. The court includes: Queen Marian Harring and attendants, Joan Freeland, Marilyn Beattie, Gloria Morton and Betty Long.

Preliminaries will start at 10 a. m. Saturday with the finals listed for 2 p. m.

Given Acting Post As Superintendent

GALION — Miss Magdalene Merle has been appointed acting superintendent of City hospital by Service Director John F. Porter.

British Leaving Holy Land In Time to Beat Deadline

HAIFA —(UP)— An estimated 4,000 British troops sailed from Palestine last night aboard two transports.

Hundreds more soldiers, converging on Haifa from all parts of the Holy Land for evacuation before the British mandate ends Friday midnight, were encamped in the dock area.

Trucks rumbled with full loads of troops into the city all during the day, and went away empty to bring back more. Additional evacuation ships were expected here today.

The British army gave no official figures on the numbers of men embarking, but it was estimated that 2,000 to 3,000 sailed for England aboard the 20,000-ton Samaria, and another 1,000 to 2,000 left on the 12,000-ton Empire Rest for Benghazi in North Africa.
